Thanksgiving Old As Moses Himself

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

It started a long time ago, when the harvest was done, the crops were in, and the earth once more had yielded of its bounty to men.

"When thou hast gathered in thy fruit of the barnfloor and of the winepress," wrote Moses, "thou shalt make merry in thy festival time, thou, thy son, and thy daughter . . . and the stranger . . . within thy gates."

Many Forms

It was a time of Thanksgiving in that ancient Biblical era, and so it is Thursday, a tradition that has traveled down the centuries, in many forms and many lands.

America celebrates it with family gatherings, with heaped tables, with games and travel, and with worship.

"It is fitting that we give our thanks for the safety of our land, for the fertility of our harvests, for the strength of our liberties, for the health of our people," President Kennedy said in the annual proclamation.

Equal Toil

"We do so in no spirit of self-righteousness. We recognize that we are the beneficiaries of the toil and devotion of our fathers, and that we can pass their legacy on to our children only by equal toil and equal devotion."

In the present age, it is not just the agricultural output that is cause for men's gratitude, but also the industries, the arts, the sciences that treat their ills, the knowledge that enriches their minds, the inventions that broaden their potentialities, and the services and institutions that secure their rights.

In churches across the country, there will be special services, with music, and singing and prayer. Christians of most denominations will make annual offerings next Sunday to aid the needy, near and far.

Turkey on Menu

The customary turkey is on the menu almost everywhere, at family reunions, in veterans' hospitals, in prisons, in orphanages, and at military posts.

Highways, railroad trains and airliners bulged with the usual surge of holiday travelers, and parades, pageants and football games were scheduled in many places.

President Kennedy, flying to Cape Cod late Wednesday, is to spend Thanksgiving with his wife and daughter, Caroline, at their Hyannis Port home. John Jr. was to remain in Washington with his nurse because of a cold. Most of the Kennedy clan is expected to be on hand.

MRS. RALPH G. BROOKS

—CENTENNIAL COMMISSION FEUD GROWS—

Mrs. Brooks Attacks Governor's Statement

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Mrs. Ralph G. Brooks, one of 3 persons removed from the Nebraska Centennial Commission by Gov. Frank Morrison, Wednesday fired back at the governor stating that his letter to her "repudiates" his statement that his action "was not politically motivated."

Releasing to the press contents of a letter she has written to the governor, Mrs. Brooks said:

"I have heard reports on the radio of comments you made today that your asking my resignation from the Nebraska Centennial Commission 'was not politically motivated'.

"Perhaps I should remind you of the letter you wrote to me in which you said, and I quote:

'In view of statements which you expressed during the past year indicating a lack of faith in the present administration, would you feel that you can properly serve as a part of this administration as a member of the Centennial Commission'."

Repudiate

Mrs. Brooks then continued:

"Your own words in that letter flatly repudiate the statement you made to reporters today that your request for my resignation 'was not politically motivated'.

"My understanding of service on the Centennial Commission must be very different from yours. The celebration of Nebraska's 100th year of statehood, in my opinion, has nothing to do with politics. It's for all Nebraskans—Democrats and Republicans and the party you are attempting to create.

"This is still a free country, Gov. Morrison, whether you like it or not, and under the rights each of us has from the Constitution, each of us is supposed to be able to express our own opinions without fear of retribution.

Concluded

"You have also said you have concluded that the Centennial Commission should not be composed of active political personalities, but that it should be composed of people who can help write the history of the state and plan centennial observances with absolute objectivity.

"Isn't that making second class citizens of the people you ask to serve? They can enjoy some of their constitutional rights — but not all of them?

"What about persons serving on the commission who may have actively worked for your re-election? Is that 'absolute objectivity', Gov. Morrison, or does it just depend upon which side they work?

I am Sorry

"I am sorry you have removed from the Commission two of Nebraska's outstanding citizens, Governor Peterson and Mr. Floyd Wisner, who were able members of the commission, for the sole reason that they differed with your candidacy.

"We Nebraskans are proud of our state. I had hoped that the centennial would have portrayed Nebraska in its true image. You are starting the planning of this proud occasion at a level of cheap gutter politics.

"I can say only of your attempted explanation that the discharge of the committee members who disagreed with your political aspirations was not political—Frank, the people of Nebraska are not that naive. Shame on you," she concluded.

Confirmed

Morrison had confirmed at his Wednesday morning press conference he was removing Mrs. Brooks from the commission. He said he had not received a reply to his request for her resignation, so "I have no alternative but to remove her."

Commenting upon his removal of Mrs. Brooks, former Gov. Val Peterson, and Scottsbluff editor Floyd Wisner, Morrison said, "I should never have appointed them to the commission in the first place."

Stating the matter concerned policy, not politics, Morrison said, "I intend to appoint to this commission an equal number of Democrats and Republicans, but nobody who intends to become an active candidate for high public office because it entails too many complications."

—DANGEROUS PHASE OVER IN CUBA—

U.S. Forces Dismantling; Reservists Are Released

Washington (AP)—The United States began dismantling some of its massive Cuban crisis military buildup Wednesday as tension eased and Navy patrol planes were assigned the task of checking Soviet bombers out of Cuba.

Signaling the end of the most dangerous phase of the U.S.-Soviet confrontation over Cuba, the Defense Department ordered the release from active duty of 14,000 air reservists called up at the height of the Cuban crisis.

Simultaneously it canceled an order that held in service all Navy and Marine personnel who otherwise would have been discharged by Feb. 28. About 41,000 officers and men are believed affected.

Return Home

Every effort will be made to return the reservists "to their homes as soon as possible," the announcement said.

In related developments the Air Force kept its concentrations of planes in the southeastern United States but said all planes of the Air Defense Command are returning to home stations from the dispersal points they were deployed to at the height of the crisis.

And the Navy reported the 63 ships blockading Cuba should be back at home ports or other duty stations by the weekend. This was the first disclosure of the size of the blockade fleet, which had varied from time to time.

The moves came in the wake of President Kennedy's news conference announcement Tuesday that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had agreed to remove within 30 days some 20 IL28 jet bombers from Cuba — believed to be the last of his nuclear capable offensive weapons there. In return the United States ordered an end to its blockade of Fidel Castro's communist-ruled island.

Other Actions

The agreement brought these other actions too:

—The Navy announced that P2V patrol planes of its Atlantic anti submarine warfare forces would photograph the Soviet ships carrying the bombers to verify their removal. No surface vessels have been ordered to help.

—The Soviet government canceled the state of combat readiness proclaimed for its armed forces because of the Cuban crisis and Warsaw Pact nations followed suit. All Soviet submarines were ordered back to normal stations.

— The blockade - bombers agreement touched off optimism in the Soviet capital that a nuclear test ban agreement and Berlin settlement could follow.

—United Nations delegates hailed the agreement and viewed the promised removal of the bombers as a victory for Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan in overcoming Castro's objections to giving up the bombers. They noted Mikoyan is reported to have just signed a new 3-year economic aid pact with Cuba. A Cuban government communique heard in Key West, Fla., denied that such a treaty has been agreed to.

—A Defense Department spokesman specifically denied reports that Cuban aircraft had flown over the southeastern United States since the Cuban crisis began. And when asked about a Havana report Tuesday night that Cuban anti-aircraft batteries had exchanged fire with a U.S. patrol plane, he said:

"There is no information whatsoever to substantiate such a report."

Ike Enters International Live Stock Exposition

Chicago (UPI) — Former President Eisenhower has entered 9 head of Aberdeen Angus cattle in the International Live Stock Exposition which opens Friday, show officials said Wednesday.

An exposition spokesman said the president-turned-farmer has sent 6 heifers and 3 bulls to the show from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm. Eisenhower entered 6 head of cattle in the 1961 International.

City Receives Identical Bids From 6 Of 8 Electric Firms

Six of the 8 bids for 75KVA transformers for the City Light Department were identical in bid-opening Wednesday.

However, Korsmeyer Electric of Lincoln was the apparent low bidder at $1,738.11 for furnishing 3 Wagner transformers.

Six bids on transformers of 4 other major companies — General Electric, Westinghouse, Pennsylvania and Line Material — were identical at $1,881.

The 8th bid was $1,740 by Esco Manufacturing, a Texas Company.

Low $142 Less

City Purchasing Agent Wayne Harvey noted the low bid was $142 under the 6 identical high bids.

He said the results were encouraging and indicated bid competition was possible when an estimated $30,000 transformer requirement contract is advertised in early 1963.

City officials were watching Wednesday's bids on transformers to see what effect the federal anti-trust suits against electrical equipment manufacturers on bid-rigging have had on transformer prices.

Over Estimate

City officials said bids for reconstruction of the retaining wall and front steps for City Hall were over the $2,600 estimate.

Two bids were received: Judds Bros. Construction Co., $3,944, and George Cook Construction Co., $4,993.

Recommendations on the bids will go Monday to the City Council.

Chinese Tell Of Big Battle Gains

. . . As Deadline Passes

New Delhi, India (Thursday) (AP)—Red China's deadline for a cease-fire in the India-China war passed Wednesday midnight with military reports of both sides focused on a series of spectacular, last-minute gains by Chinese shock troops.

Hours after the passage of the deadline (10 a.m. CST Wednesday), reports on Thursday's status of the Himalayan front were still lacking. There is a normal lag in communications, however, from the mountains to both New Delhi and Peking

A spokesman for the Indian government announced India had taken a "wait and see" attitude. He declined to say whether the battered Indian combat units would observe the cease-fire. Prime Minister Nehru and his aides suspect the Chinese announcement was a trick, perhaps to give the Chinese time to reinforce.

Sweeping Advance

The Indian Defense Ministry announced the Chinese made sweeping gains Wednesday in twin drives toward the flat and open country of North Assam, a rich section between the Himalayan foothills and the Brahmaputra River, a stream which Hindus consider sacred.

Chinese troops pouring across the conquered Se Pass sector broke through Indian defenses south of Bomdila and were reported plunging toward the Assam plains, a spokesman said.

Thousands fled the endangered Assam city of Tezpur, 60 air miles southeast of Bomdila. An Indian army corps headquarters based at Tezpur pulled out for a safer site at Glauhati, 116 miles to the southwest.

Refugees included more than 660 Westerners — British and American men, women and children, from tea and rice plantations north of the Brahmaputra. Indian planes airlifted the Westerners to safety.

32-Day Dash

Informed sources said the Chinese had reached a small checkpost named Foothills at the edge of the Himalayas, where the Assam plains begin. They had crossed the Himalayas in only 32 days.

Foothills marks an edge of the Chinese-claimed area in northeast India, according to Peking's vague maps. But there was fear the Chinese, flushed by a series of victories, might press ahead.

The drive south from Bomdila was coupled with a 65-mile advance in the Chinese push at the eastern end of the front down the Luhit River Valley toward the Brahmaputra. The spokesman said Indian forces, driven from Walong last week, had retreated from positions 15 miles south of Walong to dig in 80 miles down the river at Hayuliang.

Radio Peking reported sweeping gains at the western end of the front, with the Chinese sweeping Indian forces from "all the 43 aggressive strongpoints" in Ladakh. The broadcast account made no mention of the strategic Indian airfield at Chushul. The last report from Indian authorities was that Chushul was holding against attack.

—U.S. AID—

Transport Planes Go To India

Washington (AP)—The United States is rushing to India a dozen large Air Force transport planes — with American pilots and maintenance personnel — to help in India's fight against Red China.

The State Department announced this Wednesday simultaneously with the takeoff for New Delhi of a high-level mission dispatched by President Kennedy to help determine just how much arms aid India will need from this country.

At the same time, the Indian ambassador to the United States, B. K. Nehru, said India did not need troops from the West. He said his populous but poor country has plenty of manpower, but lacks fighting equipment.

In announcing that 12 C130 Hercules turbo-prop Air Force transports were leaving from Europe for India Wednesday and Thursday, State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said "a specific urgent request" from India had arrived for the planes. He said the craft will be used "to enable the Indians to move troops and supplies quickly within India."

Nehru, a cousin of India's prime minister, stated India's case in a speech at the National Press Club.

Nehru made these points:

1. A great debate in India has been set off by the Red Chinese attack, and this might result in a shift toward the West in India's previously neutralist policy.

2. The Chinese cease-fire offer contains "many snags which we will have to carefully consider."

3. India made "a great error of judgment" in its past assumption that Red China was peacefully inclined. As for whether New Delhi might be wrong in figuring that the Russians are peaceful too, he said: "It's very possible that we have made more than one mistake."

4. There has been no indication that Russia will not go through with an earlier commitment to supply India with MIG jet fighters, due next month.

MONEYMAKERS NOT SO FUNNY

London (AP)—The Sunderland Magistrate's Court was shocked to learn Wednesday that inmates of Her Majesty's hospital for the criminally insane, Broadmoor, have been making and passing counterfeit money.

Three persons were committed for trial for having passed pound ($2.80) notes manufactured by inmates with permission of hospital authorities. The prosecutor said the bank notes were for use by the prison amateur theatrical society.

"I understand," he told the court, "that the prisoners have a very strong amateur dramatic group."

According to testimony, prisoners passed the notes on to visitors who then used them to buy liquor.

Hopes Held For Tests Ban And Berlin Settlement

OPTIMISM IS VOICED IN MOSCOW

By PRESTON GROVER

Moscow (AP) — The blockade-and-bombers agreement on Cuba touched off optimism in the Soviet capital Wednesday that a nuclear test ban might follow and later a Berlin settlement.

There was no definite feeling of urgency in high diplomatic quarters on these issues, but an atmosphere of easing tension was clearly evident.

The Russians canceled the state of combat readiness proclaimed for the Red armed forces at the height of the Cuban crisis. A similar alert that went out to Warsaw Pact military forces was called off.

Both Want Ban

The Soviet Union and Western powers have both come out for a nuclear test ban. The Russians have given no indication of agreeing to permit on-the-spot inspections to check upon underground testing, but as one top legal observer said:

"They haven't said no so forcefully in recent days, either in Moscow or in Geneva where the negotiations are going on."

Whereas some diplomats felt it possible that a test ban pact might come in weeks, they felt Berlin will remain a touchy issue for months.

One sign of better times—President Kennedy's statement on Cuba, made at a Washington press conference, was read in part over Moscow Radio and distributed apparently in full to Soviet newspapers by the official news agency Tass.

Decidedly Different

Most American statements are cut to ribbons here, mingled with critical comment or raillery. Wednesday it was different. Premier Khrushchev's order pulling the Soviet submarines out of the Caribbean, calling off the rocket and armed alert, and removing the IL28 bombers from Cuba, was read slowly over Moscow Radio after a fanfare that announces a special announcement.

A short time later, essential chunks of Kennedy's statement were read. Then Tass moved the text over the wire to the Soviet newspapers.

Following that came a reading of the Chinese directives for a cease-fire in the Himalayas, a bit of important news not given earlier to Moscow citizens.

All these things set observers here looking for a Soviet reassessment of the world situation.

Walker Is Competent To Be Tried

. . . U.S. Judge Rules

Oxford, Miss. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Claude F. Clayton ruled Wednesday that former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was mentally competent to stand trial and aid in his defense on federal charges of insurrection.

Gen. Walker

No trial date was set for Walker, arrested Oct. 1 after a night of rioting at the University of Mississippi following the arrival of James H. Meredith, the school's first known Negro student.

Judge Clayton accepted a Dallas, Tex., mental test given Walker earlier this month, after attorneys for both Walker and the federal government agreed that this test could be used.

A few minutse earlier, Judge Clayton had ruled against a motion by Walker's attorneys to throw out his order for a psychiatric test.

Report Produced

Following a conference with attorneys, Clayton opened a copy of the report on Walker's mental test in Dallas.

He described the report as "essentially negative" — that is, it expressed no opinion on the sanity of Walker. Dr. Robert Stubblefield of Dallas examined Walker.

The judge then added that his personal opinion, after hearing Walker testify earlier Wednesday was that Walker was competent to aid in his defense against federal charges.

General Takes Stand

Shortly before the judge took the motion under consideration, Walker took the stand himself, answering questions put to him by his attorney.

He gave details of his arrest by federal troops on charges of seditious conspiracy and inciting insurrection in the bloody, night-long desegregation riot on the University of Mississippi campus almost two months ago.

But neither he nor his attorney made any mention of his actions the night of the riot.

At one point, in reply to a question from his attorney, Walker said he had been misquoted in reports saying he described former President Truman and others as communists.

FLORA JEAN COLE

REV. LeROY DANIELS

MISSING MINISTER AND CHOIR SINGER ARE FOUND

Wichita, Kan. (AP) — A married Baptist minister and a 16-year-old girl, missing from their homes in Tatum, Tex., since Nov. 2, were found Wednesday living together in Wichita.

The Rev. LeRoy Daniels, 27, pastor of the Christal Farms Baptist Church in Tatum, was arrested on a Texas charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Flora Jean Cole, who had been the lead singer in his choir and an honor student in high school, was taken to a home for girls.

Daniels agreed to waive extradition to Texas. He declined comment but police quoted him as saying, when asked why he and Flora Jean had left Tatum: "It's rather obvious, isn't it?"

Flora Jean is a brown-eyed blonde who stands 5-feet-2 and weighs only 90 pounds.

Police said that when they confronted her in a one-room basement apartment she shared with Daniels she readily agreed to go with them, but said firmly:

"I do not want to go home. I won't stay home. I'll run off."

Police said Daniels had been married 4 months when he disappeared.

They said Flora Jean told them she and Daniels had seen each other secretly for some time.

Daniels had been working at a liquor wholesale house, as an order-filling clerk, since Nov. 9.

At Tatum, Mrs. Roy Cole, the girl's mother, was quoted as saying the girl never had dated. Mrs. Cole said she had known of no association the girl had with the minister except through the choir.

Papillion Man Hospitalized After Crash

A 35-year-old Papillion man was hospitalized in fair condition Wednesday night after his car was in collision with another auto and a power pole at 17th and N.

Lincoln General Hospital officials said Tell H. Perrelet was treated for a severe forehead cut. A passenger in his car, Gerald S. Lockey, 32, 610 Jeffrey Drive, also was treated for a forehead cut but released.

Police said the Perrelet car was eastbound on N when it was in collision with a northbound car driven by George M. Gessleman, 43, of 420 Jeffrey Drive. After impact Perrelet's auto continued into a power pole at the northeast curb.

Gessleman also went to the hospital, complaining of side pains, but was checked and released.

Man Without Country Added To '10 Most' List

Washington (AP)—David Stanley Jacubanis, a Russian-born man without a country, was added to the FBI's list of "10 most wanted" fugitives.

Jacubanis

Jacubanis, 52, is wanted in connection with a bank holdup March 27 at Dedham, Mass., and another April 5 at North Smithfield, R.I.

"This fugitive has been armed with a revolver during commission of a robbery and is considered extremely dangerous," the FBI said.

It described him as 5 foot-10, 165 to 175 lbs., of medium build, medium complexion, gray hair and brown eyes. He has a scar on his right cheek and scars under his chin, on his left hand, his upper right arm and left knee.

The FBI said he has an extensive vocabulary, a flair for sport clothes and a yen for big cars.

A native of Baku, Russia, Jacubanis was the subject of 1946 deportation proceedings, but Russia, Canada, England, France and several other countries refused to accept him.

Hospital Council Eyes Progress Toward Survey

The newly-formed Lincoln Hospital Council reviewed its progress in launching a survey of rehabilitation facilities and community needs at a Wednesday meeting.

Robert Simon, council president, said a subcommittee of the advisory group has already interviewed one survey firm and plans to interview 4 or 5 more before one is selected to make the survey.

The council also approved formation of a committee, headed by Joseph Soshnik, to study statistical information exchanges among the 3 accredited Lincoln hospitals.

Artist Charged With Slander Of The Christ

Johannesburg, South Africa (AP)—Artist Harold Rubin, 30, was charged in court with having "slandered Jesus Christ" in a painting which showed the crucified Christ naked.

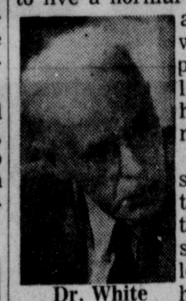
Police removed the painting from a Johannesburg art exhibition in July after critics objected to it and the inscription: "I forgive you, O Lord, you know not what to do."

One of the objections to the painting of the white Christ was that it showed Jesus in such agony that his tongue protruded and was black from suffering.

Defense counsel asked more time to prepare Rubin's case, and the judge agreed to put the trial off until Jan. 7.

Doctor Says Work Week Is Too Short

Boston (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White, noted heart specialist, said Wednesday both physical and mental stress are needed to live a normal life and that a 40-hour work week is probably "too little for healthy humans."



Dr. White

"We spend so much time trying to entertain ourselves in our leisure time," he said, "that we are probably less culturally adapted than were our grandparents, who fortunately for them, did not have automobiles and television; they walked and read."

His observations were made in the Massachusetts Heart Association health column, "Living with Your Heart."

In this country today, he said, the heart plays second fiddle to the blood vessels.

"The arteries," he explained, "act in two ways on the heart . . . in the first place, through their normal physiological function in delivering blood . . . and secondly, when affected by a disease which we call atherosclerosis, which is essentially a rusting of the inner lining of the artery walls — thus narrowing the bone of the vessels and cutting down greatly the flow of blood through them."

Spy Case Inquiry Explodes, Closes

London (UPI) — Britain's inquiry into the controversial case of Admiralty spy William Vassall opened Wednesday and exploded immediately into a political battle before closing for further secret sessions.

Attorney Gerald Gardiner asked that Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell be represented at the hearings and questioned the wisdom of permitting Britain's attorney general, Sir John Hobson, to act as tribunal counsel.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan set up the 3-man tribunal under chairmanship of Lord Radcliffe to investigate the circumstances under which Vassall was able to sell admiralty secrets to the Soviet Union.

Vassall, an admiralty clerk and known homosexual, was sentenced to 18 years in prison for espionage. He said he had been blackmailed by the Russians into espionage.

The tribunal also was empowered to investigate allegations concerning the relations between Thomas Galbraith, former civil lord of the Admiralty, and Vassall, who was his clerk.

Lord Radcliffe said Gardiner's application for legal representation for Gaitskell would be considered and a decision made known later.

Before the tribunal adjourned for secret sessions, Lord Radcliffe said further proceedings would be opened to the public only if the tribunal felt it necessary.

Steen Opposes Tourism Office

...Sees Danger Of Political Football

Norfolk (AP)—"If an office of tourism were created by the State Legislature with a director appointed by the governor it would only become a political football," Game Commission Director Mel Steen told a Norfolk Chamber of Commerce legislative affairs luncheon Wednesday.

An office of tourism was recommended in a report Monday by a Legislative Council study committee. "I disagree with this recommendation, and I do mean disagree," Steen emphasized.

The promotion of tourism presently is under jurisdiction of the Game Commission. Steen said: "Our budget which already has been submitted includes funds for promotion of tourism.

"We are not against creating such an office because we relish the job of promoting the tourist trade. But any change made now would disrupt plans already under way."

Steen said any time a nonpartisan activity is changed to one of a political nature its efficiency is reduced.

"This director who would be appointed by the governor —who would his first responsibility be to? It would be to the governor and secondly to the people of Nebraska."

As this office of tourism expands, the regulation of state parks would come into its jurisdiction, "then we would also have a political park system," Steen said.

Steven Cass Rites Pending; Crash Victim

Ravenna — Funeral services are still pending for Steven Cass, a University of Nebraska student, who was killed in a two-car accident on his way home for Thanksgiving.

Mr. Cass

The accident, which also took the life of Mrs. Shirley Johnson, 39, of Aurora, mother of 6, and injured the two women riding with her, occurred Tuesday night about three-quarters of a mile west of Phillips on U.S. 2-34.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Cass, publishers of the Ravenna News, young Cass was a senior in NU's College of Engineering and Architecture. He was treasurer of Delta Upsilon Fraternity, a vice president of the Student Council, vice president of Kosmet Klub, Innocents, and two engineering honoraries, Sigma Tau and Chi Epsilon.

Mr. Cass was a member of the Engineering Executive Board which supervises extracurricular activities for students of that college. The system of one-way traffic around the mall at the university, soon to go into effect, was also a project of his.

In addition to his parents, Mr. Cass is survived by a brother, Lyman Jr., who is serving in Germany as a pilot in the Air Force.

Two passengers in the Johnson car, Mrs. Loraine Novak, 27, and Mrs. Vern Gaughan, 35, both of Aurora, were injured in the mishap. Mrs. Novak was hospitalized at Grand Island with two broken legs and a broken arm. Mrs. Gaughan was taken to an Aurora hospital suffering a broken jaw, facial cuts and other injuries.

Hamilton County Sheriff Ralph Spry said the near headon collision also resulted in total damage to both cars.

Rail Joints Will Be Thing Of Past On Denver Route

Holdrege (UPI) — The clatter-clack of iron train wheels passing over rail joints will eventually be a thing of the past on the Burlington Railroad's Denver to Chicago route.

Work crews are installing continuous, welded rails, which do away with the noise-producing joints. They are scheduled to complete an 18.6 mile segment from Holdrege east by Tuesday.

The 180 man crew previously installed a 30 mile segment of continuous rail between Denver and Akron, Colo. The Holdrege construction will wind up the Burlington's 1962 portion of the renovation.

The Burlington said it is installing the new rails because of heavy traffic on the Denver-Chicago route, its main line. It takes crews about a day to lay one mile of the new track, a railroad spokesman said.

Laotian Leftists Down U.S. Jet

Tokyo (Thursday) (AP)—An American jet plane was shot down Nov. 8 by Laotian leftwing forces while on a reconnaissance flight over the Xieng Khouang area of east central Laos, the New Red China News Agency said Thursday.

The Red Chinese new agency quoted the "Voice of Laos" radio, which speaks for the pro-communist Pathet Lao. It did not say what happened to the pilot.

Doane Students Will Hear Lincoln Rabbi

Crete — Rabbi Wolfgang Hamburger of the South Street Temple in Lincoln will represent the Jewish Chautauqua Society as lecturer at Doane College in Crete Thursday, Nov. 29.

The rabbi will speak at convocation at 11 a.m. in the Music Hall on the subject "Highlights of the Jewish Faith."

Negro Applies To Southern Miss School

Jackson, Miss. (UPI)—A 21-year-old Negro disclosed Wednesday he has applied for admission to the University of Southern Mississippi and expects to be accepted without a court fight.

The announcement was made by John Frazier, state president of the Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and head of the student government body at Campbell College for Negroes. Campbell College is located in Jackson.

Frazier said that while he was not anticipating trouble, he was prepared to take legal steps should the University of Southern Mississippi reject his application because of his race.

The Greenville youth said he was able to answer every question on the application and he saw no reason why the university would reject him.

University officials declined to comment.

Frazier had announced his intentions earlier this month at an NAACP fund raising dinner.

He was the second Negro to seek entrance to a state university originally designated for white students only.

Alfanette Bracey, 19, a student at Jackson State College, earlier applied for admission to the University of Mississippi.

James H. Meredith, who applied for admission to Ole Miss last year, is the only Negro attending a previously segregated university in Mississippi.

Frazier once tried to enroll in Millsaps College here, but the Methodist-supported institution turned him down because of the situation at Ole Miss.

He said he didn't take any legal action against the college, because it was the school's right, as a private institution, to reject him.

Policewoman's Purse Is Stolen

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)— Graciela (Mickey) Flores, a St. Paul policewoman for nearly 10 years, made a campaign out of warning women against purse snatchers.

Three years ago, Miss Flores even modelled some pictures for the police department depicting what a shopper shouldn't do with her purse while looking over a store's wares.

Miss Flores herself went shopping for a pair of shoes, let her purse lie on the floor nearby while she tried them on.

Yes, when she looked again it was gone —along with her shiny police badge No. 16 and $18 in cash, plus numerous other items.

Stick Around

New Haven, Conn. (AP)— Three inmates who were due to be released from the New Haven state jail asked for, and were granted, permission to remain behind bars one more day.

They told Sheriff J. Edward Slavin they didn't want to miss the traditional big Thanksgiving dinner.

Thanks Go To Turkeys For Beatrice Driveway

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Beatrice — Add this to "all the trimmings" that go with turkey: one driveway.

Gravel by the ton has gone into Vernon Krause's unique project this fall, thanks to the big Thanksgiving birds. The surfacing came from Missouri, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska—all via turkey gizzards.

Processing of up to 5,000 fowl per day here by Swift and Co. often produces a half barrel of the sand. The assistant maintenance engineer started hauling it home daily, thereby adding to packing house legend of "saving all but the squeal."

"Around 1,300 pounds of gravel had accumulated the one week I kept track," the frugal Beatrician recalled. "At the going price for turkeys the plant had paid over $200 for that rock, so I really have a pretty high-priced driveway."

Krause never sees some of the larger marble sized pieces, however. Their own digestive grinding in the birds' system polishes these to such luster they are sought by other of the 125 employes.

"We're always finding rifle cartridges and buttons, even glass and pins and needles," the do-it-yourselfer continued. "Turkeys go for almost anything that's small and bright."

"Over the years I remember finding 4 diamond rings in them," interjected A. L. Mullen, plant superintendent. "Also, they'll worry themselves to death over any little thing that's red."

Veteran workers claim they can glance at the gizzard gravel and name the locale of that day's birds. Missouri turkeys yield the most colorful rocks, while those of eastern Nebraska hold little gravel of any kind.

"They're all OK for a driveway, though," quipped Krause. "I hauled for 6 weeks to get out of the mud, but it was worth it."

State Funds For Mentally Ill Are Said Exhausted

Omaha (AP) — The Douglas County Board authorized the December payment of about $5,000 from county general relief funds to 53 mentally disabled persons on relief.

However, county welfare director Robert Jornlin cautioned that unless the 1963 legislature passes emergency legislation in January, Douglas County and all other Nebraska counties will be in trouble financially in providing for mentally disabled persons.

Jornlin explained that state funds totaling $200,000 which had been allocated to counties are now exhausted. He said that beginning December 1 each county will have to decide if it wants to bear the full load of paying mentally-disabled relief.

He said the legislature could solve the problem by lifting the $200,000 ceiling. If this is done in January, counties would be out only the December payment.

Jornlin added the full cost for Douglas County for the next 7 months of the 1961-63 biennium if the legislation does not pass would be about $35,000.

AF Planes, Men Depart From G.I.

Grand Island (UPI)—The 6 F102 planes and most of the Air Force personnel transferred to the airport here during the Cuban crisis, were moved out this week.

The planes and airmen, deployed here, came from Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base at Grandview, Mo., a suburb of Kansas City.

Officials said a few Air Force men remained behind and were instructing local firemen in the use of an Air Force crash truck that apparently will be left at the field here, at least for the time being.

Lewis, Clark Lake Said Most Popular

Omaha (AP)—Army Engineers said the most popular of the 5 reservoirs on the Missouri River for recreational use was Gavins Point Dam and Lewis and Clark Lake which is formed by the dam.

The area, in South Dakota and Nebraska west of Yankton, S.D., attracted 2,120,000 visitors this year, an increase of 320,000 over 1961.

Day Of Thanksgiving

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Much of the time, it seems, people spend their hours in worry or concern over something that is bothering them. This is the day on which people turn the other way and rejoice over the blessings that have come their way. There are no people alive who cannot take part in the spirit of this day and no nation with better cause to celebrate it than the United States.

Of real significance for the nation is the mere fact that as a people we do celebrate Thanksgiving, that we set aside a day on which we count up the finer things in life that have come our way. This is because the United States is largely a Christian nation, a nation which differs as much as anything from the communistic world on the latter's atheism. We are a nation of people who have grown through the centuries and become strengthened in the conviction that there is a destiny for us to fulfill beyond that which might be satisfying on only a material basis.

Looking To Our Destiny

We have cultivated a way of life and principles for living it which, while not perhaps uniquely Christian, certainly have their beginnings in mankind's faith in a supreme being. This has been the mark of Western civilization, the foundation upon which we have built.

This is the thing that has caused us to believe that men should be free, that there is a human dignity which we are bound to honor throughout our society. Without these principles, there would be no great ideological differences separating the nations of the world today and no men and women upon the face of the earth would be free.

Freedom is the fundamental of these principles and what does freedom mean? If you understand the answer to that question, then you understand the meaning of Thanksgiving. We give thanks, of course, for the gift of freedom itself that has been handed down to us. Some third of the world today is living under conditions quite different from that. They are not free. They cannot stand up and disagree with their government. They cannot go to the polls and decide as between two men which shall serve them in this public office and that, even to the highest office of their land. It is no right of theirs to make decisions, but only to carry out the will of those who have managed to gather unto themselves the power of a nation.

Those same people are not free to send their children to school and even through a college or university. They live at the whim of superiors who make the educational decisions for all families as they see best for the ultimate benefit of the nation. Not the individual, but the government decides for these unfortunate people who among them shall rise above the rest and even then it is an elevation that cannot go beyond the grave. They are given a mere lifetime, as they are led to believe, while we live with the hope and satisfaction of eternity. And should fortune ever happen to smile upon them, it is always subject to the whim of authority higher than themselves. What they have is theirs only for so long as it suits the purposes of those in control of the machinery and force of government.

And we find these people unable to move freely about, to seek that job which appeals to them and to buy the home of their choice. If the authority of the land decides that they shall be a factory worker, then that is what they are, or a doctor, an engineer, a chemist or whatever seems to be their talent as another might decide.

In short, we have placed a premium in this land of ours upon the rights of the individual. We operate on the theory that each person is entitled to equality of opportunity. We follow the logic that, given this opportunity, the individual will make the most of it and will in that way make his maximum contribution to society.

And what has this produced for us? It has given us a standard of living that is unequaled throughout the rest of the world. It has given us a material abundance of which we can be proud but for which we should also be thankful. How easy it might have been with just a little change in the course of the world's history for us, too, to find ourselves in bondage. But more than our material abundance, we have a heritage of human understanding and compassion which allows us a satisfaction that will never be known by the people of many nations of the world.

Attaining Full Satisfaction

We live with the knowledge that the measure of our success is the contribution we have made to the world around us, not just how big a piece of this world we have carved out for ourselves. Thus, those who possess the least as well as those with plenty can give thanks if only they have lived to the limits of their potential.

"Thanks, Boys"

DREW PEARSON

In Memory Of Mrs. Roosevelt

WASHINGTON — The day after Eleanor Roosevelt died, cartoonist Herblock published a picture of a small boy looking up at the Statue of Liberty, telling his mother, "Yes, I know who she is. That's Mrs. Roosevelt."

Many memorials will be established for Mrs. Roosevelt in various parts of the world, because she was in real fact the First Lady of the World. But none could be more appropriate than that proposed by the leaders of Chinese Refugee Relief. They plan to build a refugee center in Hong Kong to care for the homeless and the hungry who stream down from the barren hills and stagnant rice paddies of communist China to find a new way of life.

I have stood in the detachment of a room in a hotel in Hong Kong, looking down on the stream of humanity — surging, billowing crowds pushing along the streets like a tidal wave, too much for any traffic regulation, a human sea, an inexorable sea, sometimes a sea of misery, sometimes a sea of curiosity —always surging, surging with no place to go.

Very few today are able to enter Hong Kong. They are barred by the cold and rusty barrier of barbed wire encircling the city. But those who were lucky enough to have entered earlier throng the streets, window-shopping, job-hunting, restless, curious, hopeless. They sit and stare out over the bay, at the junks and ferryboats and ocean liners that make Hong Kong the most fascinating port in the world. They would like to be on one of them. But the quota for foreign emigration is small; so they sit and stare.

In this city of wealth and poverty, Chinese Refugee Relief plans a memorial to help train refugees for a new life, to help them help themselves. The purpose is not to send them on to the United States, but rather to help them make adjustments for a new type of living either in Hong Kong or other parts of Southeast Asia.

This home of hope will be called the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Center, and over its door will be written an inscription which best expresses her ideals.

For the most appropriate inscription representing those ideals, Chinese Refugee Relief will donate a free trip to Hong Kong for the winner and companion, to attend the dedication of the memorial center.

The entries should be sent, if possible with a contribution to Chinese Refugee Relief, care of the Postmaster, Washington 13, D.C., where they will be judged by a distinguished group of citizens, headed by former President Herbert Hoover and former President Harry S. Truman.

Mrs. Roosevelt was one of the founding sponsors of Chinese Refugee Relief. It was the last of the great causes she championed. She had seen the Western world open its arms to Hungarian refugees, yet throw up bayonets to bar Chinese refugees. So she led in opening her arms to those who fled communist oppression for new life in a supposedly free world. We can help carry out her goal of making it free.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Mr. Molner: Some young men at the office take a little of the contents of these inhalers, swallow it, drink a cup of coffee, and then work without getting tired. What is the harm in this? I'm afraid of it but would like you to back me up with some makes them have so much energy? — M.D.H.

Dr. Molner

The basic drug involved is some form of the amphetamines, or "pep pills," and they are dangerous. They come in various forms of tablets, sniffers and what-not, and there are numerous chemical variations—all powerful stimulants.

Like their opposite, the barbituates (sedatives), these drugs can be extremely useful but they do an immense amount of harm when abused.

It is easy for a person to start taking too much of them. He tries it, gets a sudden "lift," feels wide awake and full of energy. Yet the drugs don't add a particle of real energy to the system. They just force you to use it up faster. The person who keeps going by use of amphetamines still has to get adequate rest eventually, or collapse. There have been some pretty sad cases of people who got into a vicious cycle of taking amphetamines to pep them up during the day, then taking sedatives so they could sleep at night —and amphetamines again the next morning to shake off the lethargy. Unless the individual manages to break loose from this merry-go-round, disaster of one sort or another is inevitable: Death or severe poisoning from over-doses, physical exhaustion, mental and nervous collapse.

Of course people always are "sure" that it won't happen to them; they won't let the drugs become such a habit. But some of them do, just like people who insist that they can drink or let it alone.

But there is danger of lesser proportions, too. Use of these stimulants can lead to jangling nerves, jitters, loss of weight, rapid heart beat and the like.

To my way of thinking, the drugs should be used only for medical purposes, never to make up the energy you didn't accumulate by adequate rest the night before.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes fever blisters on the lip and what will keep them from coming back?—W.G.B.

They are caused by a virus, herpes simplex. Some authorities believe that the virus, once present, never leaves, but breaks out into a blister or "cold sore" whenever your resistance sags, such as when you get a cold or some other transient infection.

I do not know of a sure-fire remedy. Sometimes, oddly, a new smallpox vaccination stops the trouble. Drying medications, like camphor ice or spirits of camphor, help heal them.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a 20-year old girl and my hair is thinning on top. It is dry but I wash it twice a week and wet it under the shower every night to set it in rollers. Could that cause thinning?—Louise P.

Frequent washing and nightly wetting of dry hair remove even more of the oils that combat "dryness."

"Dry" hair is brittle. It breaks off close to the roots. This does not damage the roots: the hair will grow in again. But if it is destined to break off again, the hair will still appear "thin." Better take some precautions not to let the hair become so dry.

Dear Dr. Milner: I have a growth on the back of my hand near the base of the thumb, about the size of an egg and still growing. It has been there about 3 or 4 years.—J. W. L.

A lump this size that is still growing should be examined by your doctor. It might be ganglion (tendon cyst) but I am not familiar with one growing to egg size. Surgical removal probably will be necessary.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dr. Molner: Short of cutting off my head, isn't there anything I can do about the awful facial whiskers I'm sprouting? Wouldn't female hormones help? —Jane.

No, ma'am, I don't think they would help, and definitely do not recommend them (except, of course, in cases in which some deep-seated hormonal imbalance is found).

Shaving the "awful facial whiskers" is entirely feasible but, of course, a nuisance. Depilatory creams may solve the problem for you. Or for permanent removal, have the roots destroyed by electric needle. This last is a tedious task, I admit, but effective.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

The Basic Ingredient

For the fourth successive year Russian agricultural production has not responded to Soviet determination for improvement.

This past year grain production made a modest gain, but the potato crop, a vital one for Russia, fell off. So it went in livestock production and other phases of farming. By now it is pretty well established that Premier Khrushchev cannot make the crops go by reciting Marxian gospel or by reorganizing government departments or setting quotas. He, himself, has finally admitted that Soviet agriculture, like industry, should not retreat from copying capitalist methods.

It may be a bitter admission, but it is not precedent shattering. Khrushchev's political forebears borrowed heavily from Western industrial corporations and adopted the free world's methods and techniques in other fields. But he will have a more difficult time doing it in agriculture. One can collectivize workmen who are accustomed to use tools not of their own, to process parts of products toward which they hold no feeling of ownership.

But farming is different. The producer has a sense of proprietorship of his land, the ownership of his tools and a sense of producing the whole product from beginning to end. He is intimately possessive of both the product and the means of producing it. Mr. Khrushchev will have to go a lot farther than providing state owned land, machines, seed and approved methods. It will be necessary to duplicate the personal relationship of his farmer with his land and his crops. That is hardly a concession Marxism can afford to make.

It is also a principle we cannot afford to depreciate, although in this period of our overabundance we are being tempted to change it at the expense of its most vital ingredient — the ownership relationship.

Belongs To The Ages

Tourists lingering in the mountainous area of the Arizona southwest get a feeling that they are standing in nature's work shop after the workmen have gone.

Over in this part are the remains of hundreds of volcanoes, cool and idle now, but certainly once upon a time the most awesome fireworks display one could imagine.

Over in that part is a great crater telling of a long gone, massive meteor that must have shaken the earth for a thousand miles around. Then there is the painted desert, a fine piece of gigantic artistry. Natures does things in a big way.

Nearby is the petrified forest. Long ago, for reasons unknown, sand covered a living forest. In the ages that followed ground water of high chemical content deposited minerals in place of the wood. Now it is a forest of jasper.

Curious hunters can't walk off with an extinct volcano or a crater or a desert. But petrified wood is different. Federal law in 1896 put a stop to the souvenir people. Lately, the government redesignated the forest as a national monument and its preservation has been further confirmed.

Why so much concern about unmarketable things? Certainly the geologists have long since solved the mystery of petrification. Dead volcanoes are unmarketable and petrified trees hardly more.

The answer seems to be that people like to look at such things. It gives them a sense of the depth of time, of nature at work, and of the immensity of that work. It impresses them that nature is neither lifeless nor lacking a vast and inscrutable intelligence. Examples should be preserved. They belong to all the generations of men which will ever be. They tell a profound story that requires endless repetition.

The Odds Must Do It

A University of Illinois engineering professor, Dr. John Holtiwanger, spoke to a group of Lincoln business and professional men on what would normally be a fascinating subject. He asked them how a nation goes about saving the lives of 60 million Americans. The only stickler in the discussion was that the threat to these lives is from nuclear fallout.

This is not how things should be but how they are. There is more awareness every day of the dangers of nuclear fallout and more done every day to protect against it but the nation still moves very slowly on this subject. Part of the reason is due to public misunderstanding of things relating to any nuclear bomb attack against this nation.

There are those who still believe that it is useless to try to escape such danger. They believe either that they could not escape it or that if they did, life would not be worth living in the world, anyway, following a nuclear attack. Both ideas, of course, are false but they still persist. In time, educational efforts will take care of this problem and the number of unprotected lives will decline.

But an even bigger problem, perhaps, is overcoming the apathy that exists relative to this situation. The difficulty here is in convincing people who are reasonably well informed on the subject that they really should take action to protect themselves. Somehow or other, these people find difficulty convincing themselves of the danger. They live with the conviction that there is always time to get ready for the fallout danger at some later date. It is like the person who constantly puts off a routine physical examination. These people still believe that the need for fallout protection is a one-in-a-million shot and such odds cannot excite them. This, too, is an error but it is probably the big hurdle to jump in saving the 60 million lives about which Dr. Holtiwanger spoke.

Blessings Bountiful Here In Our Land

NEW YORK — Looking around for some things to be thankful for?

Well, let's start with life. You're living in the most challenging, arresting, interesting age in the history of man. The historian of a thousand years hence will say of us who are alive today that we were lucky witnesses of the birth of not only the atomic but the space age.

He will say that we in America were fortunate enough to have been born in (or reached) a land that did more for the rights of man than any land ever had.

You can give a sign of thanks today for the existence of a free press, freedom of assembly, freedom to say anything you wish, to vote for any person on the ballot (or none of them), go to the church of your choice (or no church at all).

You live in a land of such plenty that our agricultural surpluses now cost more than $400,000,000 a year just to keep in storage.

You live in a land that provides fine schools for you and your children. No one knocks on your door with a pistol butt in the dead of night. You can buy a newspaper for a nickel and the events of the entire world are spread before you — all the way from what's going on in the upper Assam Valley to how to baste a turkey.

The atom, which the ancient Greeks and teeming succeeding generations said could never be divided, now erupts to help light up our cities, supplies the men of medicine and science with priceless new tools, can drive a ship all but endlessly around the world. Yet we have hardly scratched the surface of its incredible nucleus.

We can be thankful for being able to see, hear, think, smell, touch. We can go to the grocery store and pick up fresh and frozen treasures that our grandparents either never saw nor could hope to consume. We can flip on a switch, sometimes without moving from our chairs, and bring into our living rooms all the marvels of TV and radio. In this country, we publish more books than any other country in the world—and sometimes even get around to reading them.

We have the best cars, planes, the best clothes, the best furniture, the best houses and apartments, the best water, best beaches, forests, mountains, steaks, streets, sewers, highways, accidents. We make more money than any nation in history, and give more away in a year or two than all the nations gave away, combined, through the past thousand years.

And we seem to be the only thankful nation on earth which ever gets around to setting aside a day in which to express gratitude to the dear Lord who, for reasons best known to Himself, bestowed upon us all these bountiful blessings.

Our sincere thanks for the excellent coverage the 1963 United Appeal received in The Lincoln Star. Such cooperation helped to get the message of the United Appeal across to the public, thereby insuring a 36th consecutively successful campaign in Lincoln. Special thanks for the editorial which pointed out that if we didn't have the support of our 2,000 volunteer solicitors and the voluntary financial support of the community, there would be no Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Malone Center, LARC, Red Cross or any of the other 27 United Appeal agencies in Lincoln.

Too Much Religion

Tecumseh, Neb.

As a Catholic, I have to take issue with Maxine Gottner relative to government aid to parochial schools. She talks as though all Catholics are for federal aid to their schools, but the majority of Catholic lay people are against it. The election in predominantly Catholic Massachusetts proved that. She says, "The United States is a democratic, pluralistic society." Let's keep it that way! But if the government gave aid to church schools, then every church would have the right to build their own schools, which would be segregation pure and simple and result in widespread bigotry.

She says Catholic children are turned away because their schools are filled to capacity. If the religious issue had not been raised, Congress would have given aid to the public schools.

She says that the Catholic church has always taught her children to be good Christians without federal aid. Don't all churches do that? And why can't they keep on doing it? The place to teach religion is in the church and home.

There is too much religion today and not enough of real Christianity—yes, there is a big difference.

Some of the clergy should climb down from their air-conditioned pedestals and practice some of the Christian charity they preach about from the pulpits. Sometimes the saving of souls seems secondary. What has become of "not for one, not for many, but for all?"

State Income Tax

Lincoln, Neb.

I have just read Dr. McClelland's analysis of the state tax situation, and before voicing approval or disapproval would like to suggest that we review some facts and do the thing right as long as it is in the making.

I'm from a big city in the East where this was put into effect some 20-odd years ago and worked out fairly well. But it was done a more modern way. When this came about, enough points were totaled that it did away with personal tax, car tax and mobile home tax. Cars and mobile homes had a flat rate which included everything. Small cars, $15; larger cars, $25; trucks and tractor trailers set per tonnage.

Adding a state income tax to what we already have will only bring protest. Why not set it up so that all of this would come under one heading? This would also save thousands of dollars in bookkeeping, paper, time and labor and would be much easier to handle.

Dr. McClelland has almost admitted that "chiseling" can be done with the present setup but that it can't be done with a state income tax. This way, everybody will pay his share. I surely believe it deserves a lot of thought and if properly set up, could gain a lot of appreciation instead of being condemned. Let's hear more about this.

Preserving Freedoms

Lincoln, Neb.

In regard to Catholic schools, there are countries where Catholic interests only are served and there are no other burdensome taxes to be met, but this government is set up in the interests of all faiths.

By their own choice, Catholics choose "taxation without representation" as far as our schools are concerned, but if special privileges were granted Catholics, we would not have the privilege of choosing the use of our tax dollar. We would be forced into "taxation without representation." There is quite a difference between the privilege of choice and being forced to pay it.

After 100 years of asking for special privileges, one would surely know that they are unconstitutional and out of order.

It is a great privilege to live in a country where we have our freedoms and something to be thankful for during the Thanksgiving season.

Let's write our congressmen to keep our freedoms intact. By an apathetic attitude, we could lose them.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Old Age Can Be An Active And Happy Time Of Life

By ROBERT PETERSON

"You are very stupid and reckless urging older people to mimic youth and engage in such vigorous pursuits as world travel, dancing, and horseback riding," writes a man who says he is 77. "If you knew anything about older people you'd realize that nothing interests them more than conserving their limited energy and staying close to their pill supply and their doctor.

"At my age all a person wants is quietness, a good chair to sit in, a good light to read by, a good bed to sleep in, and a little nourishing food. He wants no more stairs to climb, no anger, no parties, no excitement. He doesn't want to see anyone except one or two old friends. He wants to go to bed and wants no more exercise than he feels like taking. And he doesn't want folks who know nothing about the subject spouting off about fun in old age."

Letters such as this take the wind right out of my sails. It's not that I mind criticism. It's just that I hate to think there are still elders around who actually believe old age is necessarily a silent and hollow time of life.

Fortunately, the woods are full of alert, active elders these days who disprove this gentleman's antiquated notions about age. We are discovering that frailty and ill health are not necessary concomitants of age. And we are discovering that those who adopt a healthy attitude toward age and keep their minds and bodies active can remain astonishingly vigorous and vital until the very end of the life span.

Here's a reader who takes issue with my recent column rapping grown children who use the tired excuse of insufficient time as their reason for failing to write more often to aged parents. Says she, "I've got 7 rooms to clean and 5 small children to supervise. Are you trying to tell me I've got enough time to sit down and write a letter once a week to my parents in Florida? Now don't tell me it takes only a few minutes. I've found it takes at least an hour or two to write a thoughtful letter and that's why they don't hear from me as often as they'd like. I'm snowed under and they should realize it."

Aw, come on. Most aged parents would rather get a hastily scribbled note once a week, than to wait a month or two for a lengthy missive. It only takes 4 or 5 minutes to dash off a note letting your parents know you're okay and thinking of them. And since this is no more time than you take every day to drink a cup of coffee, chat with a neighbor on the phone, or discuss encyclopedias with a door-to-door peddler, there's not much foundation for the tired prevarication that there isn't time.

A classic document in geriatrics is a letter sent to the late Dr. George Lawton years ago. The first paragraph goes: "I am an old lady and the house I live in is 82 years old. Considering its age the house is in fairly good repair, though I don't think it looks as well as it did half century ago. I have neglected to keep it painted, as so many women do. To tell the truth, I have been spending my time on interior decorating. The windows I look out of are fairly clear, and I am glad to tell you I have a reliable tenant in the upper story."

If you would like a booklet "The Advantages of Growing Old" write to this column c/o The Lincoln Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover handling costs.

Safety Patrol Celebrates Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

As the Nebraska Safety Patrol marks its twenty-fifth birthday today Colonel C. J. Sanders, commander since 1941, looks back with pride to an organization that has grown from the 44 members in 1937 to the present force of 210.

Of the original 44 members, 14 are still on the Patrol. They are: Colonel Sanders, Captain Dan J. Casey, Captain Harve F. Nash, Captain H. D. Robinson, Captain E. L. Schottler, Captain Don R. Shearer, Captain M. J. Wiley, Captain O. H. Witt, Lieutenant John F. Beck, Lieutenant Harry J .Brt, Lieutenant Ladas L. Hubka, Lieutenant Leo E. Knudtson, Lieutenant M. R. Lambert and Lieutenant J. J. Vavrina.

The original starters in the Safety Patrol were graduates of a training camp similar to the ones that have been held since for all Patrol candidates. Their instruction ended on November 13, 1937, and their duties officially began on November 22, 1937.

Colonel Sanders, in greetings to the 209 troopers under him, gave a "well done" in pointing out that the traffic death rate per hundred million miles of travel had been reduced from 12.8 in 1937 to 4.2 for 1962. He said, "Our chief aim as a traffic enforcement agency has been to give service and protection to the motoring public."

The Patrol paused on this anniversary to recall former members who lost their lives in carrying out Patrol duties. They are: Marvin Hansen, Leon Hillyer, Raymond Koerber, John Meistrell, Duane Nichols, Vernon Rolfs, and Loyal Zink.

Governor Urges Motorists To Drive Responsibly, Thank God

Nebraska motorists were urged by Gov. Frank Morrison Wednesday to thank God for their own lives and the lives of their families and to drive responsibly over the Thanksgiving weekend.

Mrs. Helen Greene of Greenwood, the governor's safety coordinator, noted unhappily that Nebraska recorded its 348th traffic death Tuesday night, equalling the all-time record made in 1958.

Morrison said this year's total is "a reflection on the effectiveness of the governor, a reflection on the effectiveness of our law enforcement officers, a reflection on all persons dealing with safety and a reflection on every church, school and civic organization."

He said these deaths have occurred "despite the fact we have held regional traffic safety conferences, statewide youth safety conferences, religious conferences on safety, have urged judges and law enforcement officials to become tougher on traffic violators, have enlarged the Highway Patrol, instituted a lights-on-campaign, organized a State Safety Council and have been in constant consultation with the National Safety Council and other groups involved in promoting safety."

The governor praised Mrs. Greene for her work to promote safety.

Morrison said the estimated economic loss from traffic accidents this year will be $62 million.

The governor called on "everyone who puts his hand on the wheel of an automobile this Thanksgiving weekend to thank God for his own life, that of his family and his opportunity to live and to pray for his responsibility, and to deal carefully with the power he has at his command."

MORRISON MUM ON MEYERS JOB

Gov. Frank Morrison declined to confirm or deny Wednesday reports he is planning to fire Larry Meyers as state veterans affairs director.

The governor, however, repeated what he said previously: that he is considering making several administrative changes.

"I have no comment on Meyers' situation or any others now," he said.

O'Kelly's Lawyers File Motion For New Trial

Attorneys for Dennis O'Kelly, convicted last week of second degree murder, filed a motion for a new trial in Lancaster District Court Wednesday.

O'Kelly was found guilty by a Lancaster District Court jury in connection with the death of his 19-year-old girl friend, Barbara Eastman, whose body was found in Oak Lake Aug. 4.

Attorneys Richard Vestecka and Michael Lazer contended in the motions that O'Kelly was denied a "fair and impartial" trial and that his constitutional rights were violated.

Among the 47 reasons cited for granting a new trial, the defense alleges that the court erred in admitting "inflammatory" photographs, testimony of police officers and O'Kelly's written statement into evidence, and in giving each of the 20 instructions to the jury.

The motion for a new trial is prerequisite to filing an appeal to the Supreme Court.

COURT ASKED TO GIVE BOY RIGHT TO PLAY IN GAMES

A Kearney resident has asked Lancaster District Court to enjoin the Nebraska School Activities Assn. from denying his son the right to participate in competitive athletics.

E. W. Fox contends that his son Lawrence, who enrolled in St. Ann's High School at Lexington because Kearney's Catholic high school did not offer 12th grade, has been denied the right to participate in athletcis because he resides out of the Lexington district.

The petition quotes a letter written by C. C. Thompson, secretary of the NSAA, which states that young Fox is not "immediately eligible in any school outside the Kearney district . . ."

The plaintiff contends this violates the first and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

He also asked the court to enjoin the defendants from denying any school the opportunity to schedule with member schools because of Fox's presence.

Businessmen To Eye African Water

A conference will be held at the Nebraska Center Monday to give a Peace Corps official a chance to discuss ways of solving water problems in Africa with Nebraska businessmen and state soil and water officials.

Gov. Frank Morrison Wednesday reported he had arranged for the meeting after discussing the situation during his recent trip to Washington, D.C.

The governor said he spoke about the problem with Ross Pritchard, assistant head of the Peace Corps. Pritchard will attend the Monday meeting here.

Morrison said he has invited a representative of the Dempster Manufacturing Co. of Beatrice, University of Nebraska College of Agriculture officials and members of the State Soil and Water Commission.

The Beatrice firm makes windmills, which Morrison said, may be the answer to water problems in certain parts of Africa.

The governor said Pritchard told him that in certain sections of Africa, water needs could be met by the erection of windmills.

The governor said he was told that Africa has many groups of people who are nomadic simply because they have to move constantly to find water.

Educator Says Status-Seeking Parents Spoil Kids' Learning

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP)—Status-seeking parents are endangering their children's education by insisting they take school work which they can't handle, a prominent educator declared here Wednesday.

"There must be such a thing as a child with average ability, but you can't find a parent who will acknowledge that it is his child," said Thomas D. Bailey, Florida's state superintendent of schools.

"Well-meaning but misguided parents make such academic demands on their children that those children get in over their heads, run into a long series of failures, and eventually drop out of school."

"Start a program for gifted children," Bailey said in an interview, "and every parent demands that his child be enrolled. And just try to convince mom and dad that chemistry is too tough a course for their Johnny and Suzie.

"Some children just don't have the desire or the ability to handle a college preparatory program. When these youngsters are pressured by their parents to prepare for college, two things are going to happen:

"First, you have to water down the program, a disservice to those who can handle the work. Second, the kids who can't handle the work get discouraged and quit school."

It has reached a point, Bailey said, where "you can find some schools teaching Latin to mentally retarded children."

Bailey, here for the annual meeting of the council of chief state school officers, said status-seeking by parents takes strange forms.

"Parents discourage their children from taking a course like machine shop, until you change the course name to machine technology. They don't approve of electric shop, but they're all for electronics technology—even if it's the same course."

Leon P. Minear, state superintendent of schools in Oregon, said, "Many parents will not permit their children to attend a vocational high school.

"But if you change the name to technical institute and set admission standards, you can't handle the enrollment.

Action by state legislatures in passing specific laws on teaching about communism was described as unwise by Richard I. Miller in an address to the council meeting. Miller conducted a nationwide survey for the National Education Association.

U.S. Discusses Congo Problem With Thant, Top U.N. Officials

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI) —Top State Department officers came here from Washington Wednesday to discuss the smouldering Congo situation with Acting Secretary General U Thant and other U.N. officials.

The Washington group, headed by George C. McGhee, undersecretary of state for political affairs, and G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, reviewed U.S. views on Thant's plan for reunification of the Congo.

No Details

The group wound up the session with a conversation with Thant. Details of the talks were not released.

The U.S. officials met with Ralph J. Bunche, U.N. undersecretary for special political affairs, Robert K. A. Gardiner of Ghana, chief of the U.N. operation in the Congo, and Brian Urquhart, a specialist in Congolese affairs.

The talks were part of continuing consultations here on efforts to end the secession of Katanga province and reunite the Congo as a federation. The United Nations is expected to take concrete action soon.

McGhee and Williams were accompanied in the talks by Edmund A. Gullion, U.S. ambassador to Leopoldville, Charles W. Yost, deputy chief of the U.S. delegation, and Woodruff Wallner, deputy assistant secretary of state for international affairs.

Enforcing Sanctions

Details of the talks were not disclosed, but it was known they included the feasibility of enforcing Thant's plan for economic sanctions against Katanga if Provincial President Moise Tshombe refuses to agree to the reunification program.

One proposal said to be under consideration is the dispatch of a 3-man international task force to the Congo to discuss with Tshombe the possibility of an international commission for handling Congolese revenues.

Under Thant's plan, Katanga would share its rich tax income from its mining industry with the central government at Leopoldville. The Katangese and central armed forces would be integrated also.

A U.S. spokesman said the State Department viewed the talks this afternoon as "a continuation of our urgent effort to speed up the Congo reunification plan."

Modern Science Lends Man Hand In Plucking Turkey

Enfield, Conn. (AP) —Somebody with a turkey to pluck brought it to a self-service laundry and let modern science lend a hand.

It was one of those coin-operated places with automatic machines and no attendants, so no one saw the mysterious plucker at his work.

But there was no doubt he'd been there.

Emile DuPont, the owner, said one of his machines was so full of feathers it took two hours to get them out.

He said the visitor apparently inserted a coin and then dunked the bird repeatedly in the hot water to make it easy to pull out the feathers.

Guantanamo Marines Will Feast On Turkey

Guananamo Bay, Cuba (AP)— Marine Corps cooks began preparing turkeys for Thanksgiving dinner the men stationed here will share with Secretary of the Navy Fred C. Korth.

The Marines said Thanksgiving dinners will be served Thursday in mess tents set up in the hills behind the fence that marks the edge of this U.S. Navy base.

Korth is scheduled to arrive from Washington in the morning. He will tour the defense line of Marine positions around the base, and have dinner with Marines guarding the line. He also plans to visit the Navy mess hall near the center of the base.

Korth plans to leave Thursday night.

Bardot Defends Her Boyfriend

Paris (UPI)—Film star Brigitte Bardot defended her boyfriend, Sami Frey, in court Wednesday against allegations he shot at photographers near her villa in St. Tropez.

France's "sex kitten" appeared as a witness in Frey's suit against the magazine "Ici Paris," which ran a story about him entitled "The Man Who Destroyed B.B."

The magazine also had said Miss Bardot's producers barred Frey from her movie sets and that Frey once bought a dog to chase away unwelcome visitors at the villa.

"All that's untrue," the actress pouted. "There was no gun at La Madrague. As far as the dog is concerned, it was at my place before I became acquainted with Frey.

"And finally my friend comes to see me when he wants while I'm filming," she said. "No one has banned him. The whole article is a tissue of lies."

Miss Bardot wore a short fur coat with matching hat and boots for her second court appearance in two days.

Tuesday she appeared for a formal marriage reconciliation attempt demanded by French law. The move cleared the way for a divorce from her estranged husband, Jacques Charrier.

U.S. Plane Stumbles On Missile Signs In Cuba

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

Washington (AP)—The recent discovery of short-range bombardment missiles in Cuba may have prompted President Kennedy to underscore the importance of continued aerial reconnaissance.

Government sources said Wednesday a U.S. surveillance plane stumbled over the first signs of the missiles while combing the Cuban countryside with cameras. One missile was reported spotted.

Kennedy did not mention this in his news conference Tuesday and there was no official word from the Defense Department.

Informants said the missiles have a range of 20 to 25 miles, are small, mobile and easily hidden.

Experts compared pictures and found that similar weapons had been displayed in a Russian military parade in Moscow. The weapons can mount either high explosives or nuclear warheads.

Sources said it is not known for sure whether these short-range missiles have atomic warheads with them in Cuba, although Kennedy said the Soviet government "has stated that all nuclear weapons have been withdrawn from Cuba."

The informants disclaimed any knowledge as to how many of the bombardment missiles are now in Cuba.

They declined to say whether these weapons were spotted near Guantanamo, but they acknowledged that missiles of that range and power could raise havoc in any attack on that U.S. Naval base perched at the east end of Cuba.

It may be that because of their short range, and inability to reach the United States, U.S. authorities do not regard them as offensive weapons in the same class as the long-range missiles and bombers which brought on the U.S. arms blockade around Cuba.

The bombardment missiles are believed to be Russian army weapons — unguided rockets propelled by quick-firing solid fuel launched from a tractor-like vehicle. They are 31 feet long and weigh about 3 tons.

One unanswered question: How long have they been in Cuba?

Kennedy, in underscoring what he called "the importance of our continued vigilance," mentioned U.S. identification in recent days of a number of Soviet ground combat units.

Reaction Mild To President's Ban On Racial Discrimination In Some Housing

Washington (AP)—Builders expressed concern that President Kennedy's ban on race discrimination in federally-aided housing might sap the health of the already wobbly homebuilding industry.

From other quarters the reactions, both pro and con, were milder than expected — apparently because the White House order itself was far less drastic than civil rights have been demanding.

Deluged with calls for information on how the ban will work, housing officials hustled to get their new regulations drafted. The Federal Housing Administration may issue its rules on Monday.

The Congress of Racial Equality, Negro civil rights group, applauded the action as a belated recognition of the government's responsibility to halt bias in housing. But its national director, James Farmer, made it clear that CORE is not yet satisfied. He said:

"It is a first step."

A forecast of a damaging impact on housing activity came from Leonard L. Frank, president of the National Association of Home Builders. Recalling the results of a recent nationwide survey of its member builders by the association, Frank said in a statement:

"The survey reflected the opinion of many builders throughout the country that such an order would cause a cutback in housing production, have an adverse effect on the entire economy, and consequently on jobs and income.

"We feel the health of the homebuilding industry now may be sapped by the executive order."

An outburst of criticism had been expected from Southerners in Congress, but few spoke up immediately. One who did was Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Banking Committee.

The order will "hurt real estate values all over the nation—not just in the South," Robertson said. He added that he could see no constitutional authority for the ban.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., also spoke out. He contended that Kennedy had no authority for his order. It will be upsetting socially and economically, he said.

TRUCKER HEAD TELLS WHY HE BUCKED HOFFA

Nashville, Tenn. (UPI) — The government sought to prove that Commercial Carriers, Inc., cancelled a truck leasing arrangement in 1958 because it no longer feared recriminations from Jimmy Hoffa and his teamsters union.

Justice Department Attorney Charles N. Shaffer said that former Commercial President Ray Van Beckum "got his courage" to cancel the test fleet lease from an advisory issued by a 3-man board of monitors.

The advisory warned Hoffa and other teamsters officials to stop "conflict of interest" business dealings by holding any interest in firms whose employes were represented by the union.

Van Beckum testified he cancelled the lease after reading newspaper accounts of action taken by the board. "The timing seemed to be opportune," he said.

Hoffa is on trial in Federal District Court on charges that he and the late Owen (Bert) Brennan, former teamsters vice president, received more than $1 million from Commercial Carriers to insure labor peace.

Although Test Fleet stock was listed in the names of Mrs. Hoffa and Mrs. Brennan, the government contends rental payments by Commercial Carriers for use of test fleet trucks wound up in the pockets of their husbands.

Agricultural Experiment Station For South Central Nebraska Urged

Holdrege—A Lincoln banker challenged a farmer-businessman group here Wednesday evening to put motion behind Farm-City Week by exerting the combined potential or rural urban efforts in releasing the potential industrial and agricultural development of south central Nebraska.

Winton Buckley, agricultural representative for the National Bank of Commerce, termed the development of an agricultural experiment station in south central Nebraska as "essential in realizing the opportunities ahead."

Buckley emphasized that only by developing extensive research on sugar beets could Nebraskans, armed with good soil, ample water and favorable climate, compete with the necessary preparation study to secure additional acreage reserve beet allomtnets for expanded state production.

He told south central businessmen and farmers that while attending a recent USDA sugar division hearing in Washington 26 groups were vying for the same expanded beet acreage sought by Nebraska.

"This was a most interesting meeting. Some of the groups there presented applications complete with firm financial commitments from sugar companies, investment banks and plans for construction of a plant. Most of these applications demonstrated through detailed preparation study.

"I realize that when we finally get a sugar company to proceed in this area we, too, must have a well prepared application and of course we will need the technical knowledge and research to back it up," Buckley said.

"Only by having an agricultural experiment station in south central Nebraska can we secure the factual information of the potential of the area," added Buckley in stressing the importance of state representatives requesting land at the Hastings Naval Depot in Washington this week.

Questions that Buckley said could be sought if the experimental station were available would include: new cultural methods, control of leaf spot and weeds, research on hybrid sugar beets and study applied to practices of feeding beet tops.

"We need not stop with beets. The same plan in the same area could be directed to concentrating work on vegetable research." Buckley added.

In continuing his support for a south central experimental station Buckley said, "This area with its 630,000 acres of pump and gravity irrigated land has been described by experts as the greatest agricultural resource area in the state, yet it is the only major region of the state having no experimental research facility."

Seward Coed Wins National Food Technologists Award

Jeanette Coufal of Seward has been named winner of a national $300 scholarship awarded by the Institute of Food Technologists. It marks the first time that a Nebraskan has won one of the scholarships.

The announcement was made Wednesday by Dr. R. B. Maxcy, chairman of the Ak-Sar-Ben Section of the Institute of Food Technologists and professor of food technology at the University of Nebraska.

Miss Coufal, a freshman at the University of Nebraska, is a member of this year's Sunday Journal and Star Honor Farm Family, honored Tuesday at a luncheon in Lincoln. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Coufal.

A 1962 graduate of Seward Public High School, Miss Coufal ranked in the upper 10% of her class the past 3 years. An active 4-H club member for 9 years, she was a member of the Seward County 4-H Livestock Judging team which took top honors in a contest at the National Western Livestock Show at Denver, Colo., earlier this year. Miss Coufal placed 4th in individual competition at the contest.

She has been named a state 4-H clothing winner and was one of 12 winners at the national contest. She also won numerous awards with project exhibits and demonstrations at the Seward County Fair and the Nebraska State Fair. Miss Coufal has completed projects in foods, clothing, beef, garden and health.

While in high school, she was active in the student council, Y-teens, pep club, Future Homemakers of America, senior class play, and the debate team. She also was active in the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

October Chick Output Drops Off 25%

Nebraska commercial hatcheries produced 48,000 chicks in October of this year, according to the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

This was 26% less than the number hatched the previous October and compares with the 1956-60 average of 148,000 chicks hatched.

During January through October of this year the total chick hatch was just slightly above 15.0 million, compared with 18.4 million for the same period last year.

The October broiler-type chick hatch totaled 14,000, compared to 37,000 a year ago. Production during the first 10 months of 1,258,000 chicks was down 19% from last year. In October, egg-type chicks hatched numbered 34,000, compared with 28,000 hatched a year ago. The January-October total of 13,790,000 was down 18% from the same period last year.

SANE National Political Action Chief Declares We Need Impetus In Washington

Sanford Gottlieb Wednesday called for "political impetus" to be given to the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy (SANE).

"We lack political power," said the national political action director for the group.

He told members of the local chapter at a luncheon in Lincoln that "waiting until a crisis such as Cuba to arise to too late."

'Pressure, Influence'

"The Cuban crisis, especially, has made us realize that our work needs both non-partisan pressure groups and influence in political parties to change decisions in Washington."

"We have to do our work between crises, before the hardening of decisions," the Washingtonian explained.

And, he continued, the areas of common interest between ourselves and the Soviet Union are the key to our working between crises:

—Both the United States and Russia want to avoid a nuclear war.

—Both want to stop the spread of nuclear weapons to other countries.

—Both want to end the tremendous economic drain and burden of the arms race —especially Russia.

Secrecy Fallacy

It is fallacious for us to think that our foreign policy is made behind closed Pentagon doors from decisions based exclusively on secret data, he said.

"Foreign policy is based partly, and very often entirely, on political factors as different pressures concentrate on people who make decisions," said Gottlieb. "And we can, and should, influence foreign policy."

SANE members have always worked hard, he said. And they must continue to work hard in the areas of community education: talking to civic groups, cornering radio and television time and visiting individuals.

Elect Peace-Men

"But, we must begin now to insure the election of peace-oriented congressmen in the 1964 race," he said.

Join the local club of the party of your choice and offer to become volunteer precinct and ward workers, he urged.

The existence of peace-oriented volunteers within the major parties should encourage the discussion of issues inside the parties, and provide a base for sympathetic candidates to run for Congress in 1964, he concluded.

NEW HOME FOR YANKS IN TOKYO

Tokyo (AP) — The Japanese government turned over a new housing project outside Tokyo to the U.S. security forces to accommodate their families moving out of Washington Heights.

Washington Heights is being returned to Japan for use as the Olympic Village in 1964.

A huge sign at the entrance of the new project called "Kanto Mura" read "Welcome Americans to your new home."

Pentagon Denies Planes Hit

. . . WHILE FLYING OVER CUBA

Tampa, Fla. (AP) — Pentagon officials said Wednesday they have no information about reports of F101 Voodoo jet reconnaissance planes returning to MacDill Air Force Base damaged by antiaircraft fire over Cuba.

The Tampa Tribune reported Nov. 2 that a number of the supersonic aircraft returned to MacDill from photo reconnaissance missions over Cuba "with plenty of holes in them."

An Air Force spokesman at the Pentagon said, "We have no information to substantiate this story."

The Tribune article said: "Thetre was some indication that some of the photos taken of the Soviet missile bases in Cuba were taken by planes flying out of MacDill."

Information officers at the base declined to comment at the time.

Security restrictions on military activity not involving national security have been lifted since the easing of the Cuban crisis.

The only report of a military aircraft being shot down over Cuba involved a U2 reconnaissance plane early this month. The pilot was killed.

The Tribune story stated, "Rockets as well as antiaircraft guns were fired at the reconnaissance planes on their missions. None of them was shot down, however, it was said, although some returned to base with holes in them."

'CACTUS JACK' GARNER

Former Veep To Celebrate 94th Birthday

Uvalde, Tex. (AP) — John Nance (Cactus Jack) Garner, elder statesman of American politics, observes his 94th birthday Thursday.

The former vice president will have no big celebration, just a few friends dropping in to wish him well.

He is still spry, still quick with a quip.

His house, built in 1879, used to be the servant's quarters for the Garner mansion, which he donated to the city for a museum.

Garner has given away almost all his fortune. More than $1 million of it went to his favorite institution—Southwest Texas Junior College in Uvalde.

He was born in Red River County, Texas, in 1868.

He got his nickname while a member of the Texas Legislature. There was a program a foot to adopt a state flower. He suggested — and fought for without success — the cactus bloom.

He spent 30 years in the U.S. House of Representatives. He was vice president for 8 years, from 1933 until he broke with Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1941 over the propriety of seeking third term.

Final Draft On Bank Contract Nears Finish

Representatives of the York State Bank have notified the State Banking Department that the expect to have ready by early next week a final draft of a contract to effect reorganization of the defunct Gresham State Bank.

Ralph Misko, State Banking Department director, said he was informed of the reorganization progress in a telephone conversation with York Bank President Dean Sack.

Misko must approve the contract before further action can be taken to re-establish the Gresham bank.

The institution has been closed by the State Banking Department and will not be reopened unless reorganization is realized.

A more than $500,000 shortage was uncovered in late October after bank cashier Arthur Walford shot himself with a shotgun as a state examiner approached the bank. Some 14,000 insufficient funds checks have been linked to the shortage.

York County Attorney Ray Svehla said he expects Hylton to be sentenced in about 30 days, Misko said.

Driver Given Jail Sentence, Loses License 6 Months

Omaha (AP) — Michael A. Johnson, 44, of Fremont, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and his driver's license suspended for 6 months after he pleaded guilty in Douglas County Court to a charge of drunken driving.

Judge Robert Troyer also sentenced Johnson to 30 days for resisting arrest, but ruled both sentences should run concurrently and that Johnson should be given credit for 10 days already spent in jail.

Judge Troyer said: "This is one of the worst cases of drunken driving I've ever seen. We're fortunate this isn't a motor vehicle homicide."

Johnson was arrested by Trooper Dale A. Van Gent of the Highway Patrol Oct. 6 on L Street after the trooper observed Johnson speeding. White Van Gent radioed for help, Johnson sped off. He was arrested again after a chase reaching speeds of 90 miles an hour, Van Gent testified.

Marshal McShane Arrested For Inciting Ole Miss Riots

Oxford, Miss. (AP)—Chief U.S. Marshal James D. McShane surrendered Wednesday on an indictment that charged he incited the Sept. 30 desegregation riot at the University of Mississippi. He was released 3 hours later on a writ of habeas corpus.

U.S. Dist. Judge Claude F. Clayton released McShane after the Justice Department claimed he was "doing duties as a federal official" on the Ole Miss campus.

The burley, ex-New York policeman was indicted last Friday by a Lafayette County grand jury that investigated the campus riot that followed the arrival of Negro student James H. Meredith.

In Court's Hands

Dist. Atty. Jesse Yancy Jr. said after McShane's release, "The case now rests in the hands of the federal court. The Justice Department says he was doing his duty and can not be charged.

"However, the state contends McShane made unlawful acts and should be prosecuted in state court."

Judge Clayton set a hearing for late January. Yancy said it would "probably last a week and bring out all the testimony of the normal trial."

McShane faces up to 10 years and a $500 fine if convicted on the state charges of inciting a riot and breach of the peace.

He was held in the Lafayette County courthouse under custody of Sheriff Joe Ford during the 3 hours before Judge Clayton released him.

Appeared Unexpectedly

The district attorney said McShane appeared unexpectedly after learning of the indictment.

The Lafayette County grand jury, following an investigation of the bloody desegregation riot on the Ole Miss campus the night of Sept. 30, returned two indictments in the case.

Under Mississippi law, the names of persons indicted, and the charges against them, cannot be made public until they are in custody. The name of the second person indicted has not been revealed.

McShane was in charge of a team of about 300 federal marshals accompanying Meredith onto the Ole Miss campus.

The marshals, after taking Meredith to a dormitory, set up a circle of men, standing shoulder to shoulder, around the Lyceum Building, where the registrar's office is located.

A crowd gathered and violence broke out. During the night of rioting, two persons were killed and scores more — students, marshals and others — were injured.

Lord Home Was Unwell During Talk

Oxford, England (UPI) — Foreign Secretary Lord Home suddenly sat down in the middle of a speech Wednesday night and confessed to feeling "extraordinarily unwell."

He got up again almost at once saying: "I am sorry. I am full of M and B." (M and B is drug widely used before penicillin.)

The foreign secretary looked very white during the speech.

He said at the end, before answering questions from Oxford University conservatives: "I am afraid my remarks have been slightly less coherent than I would have liked, but in the middle of what I was saying I must say that I felt extraordinarily unwell."

Home spoke in his speech of the Cuban crisis and suggested that the Soviet Union will soon realize that its ties are with the West.

Home said beyond the European community as the possibility of an Atlantic community "and parallel to that, even more ambitious but no less necessary, the transforation of the negative, sterile doctrine of co-existence into one of active co-operation with the countries of Europe which are at present communist, among which I include Russia."

3 Cubans Are Indicted On Conspiracy Charges

New York (AP)—Three Cubans arrested in a series of FBI raids were indicted Wednesday on charges of conspiring to commit sabotage against the United States and illegally acting as pro-Castro foreign agents.

A federal grand jury returned the indictments against Roberto Santiesteban Casanova, 27, an attache with the Cuban United Nations mission; Jose Garcia Orellana, 42, operator of a Manhattan jewelry shop, and Antonio Sueiro, 22, a part-time employe of the shop.

FBI agents rounded up the 3 last Friday night and early Saturday and confiscated sabotage material including incendiary bombs, detonators, and hand grenades.

The government charged they plotted to obtain information about national defense utilities and to damage or destroy the installations.

Two Cubans who were attached to the Cuban U.N. mission were named as co-conspirators, but not defendants.

They are Jose Gomez Abad and his wife, Elsa Montero de Gomez. The two left the country Monday after the United States demanded their recall.

Santiesteban, named as ringleader in the plot, was held in lieu of $250,000 bail. Bail for the other two defendants was set at $100,000 each.

Santiesteban, who arrived in the United States Oct. 3 on the same plane with Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos, pleaded diplomatic immunity at the time of his arrest.

The government has brushed this aside, however, on grounds the State Department has not yet passed on his diplomatic application.

The government said Santiesteban served as an instructor for the other defendants in the use of the incendiary and explosive devices.

Gomez and his wife supplied most of the sabotage material, the indictment said.

NAD Regional Use Pondered

The possibility of using the old Hastings Naval Ammunition Depot as the site for a Youth Training and Treatment Center to serve several states, and not just Nebraska, is under consideration here.

Institutions Director George Morris said Wednesday he is "thinking in those terms" as he and his staff prepare a detailed proposal for using part of the 45,000-acre depot, one-fourth of which has been declared surplus.

Morris described the area's potential as "just terrific"—large enough to support a regional rather than a state project.

The Department of Institutions would like to acquire 5,600 acres on the west end of the depot eventually, including some 20 buildings. Only 197 acres of this has been declared surplus so far, but the remainder is expected to be up for acquisition soon, Morris said.

He visualizes the youth center as a complete treatment facility where youngsters with various problems could receive help.

While the center would deal primarily with retarded children, it would also help the socially illiterate and delinquent youngsters, those with serious educational problems and child psychotics.

There is precedent for the regional concept in the Nebraska Women's Reformatory at York, which handles prisoners from South Dakota and Wyoming, Morris noted.

WHEELCHAIR TAKEN AWAY

Donald E. Handy, of 1825 So. Cotner, Wednesday reported the theft of a wheelchair, police said.

Handy told police he left the wheelchair on the driveway so he could enter his home without disturbing his family.

The wheelchair was valued at $175.

The ancient Egyptians considered glass to be of equal value with gemstones and precious metals because it was so difficult and expensive to make.

O'Shea Rogers To Get State Patrol Car Contract

O'Shea Rogers Motor Co. of Lincoln will get the contract to supply the Nebraska Safety Patrol with Ford cars during 1963, State Purchasing Agent Leo Beck Sr. reported Wednesday.

The O'Shea bid of $1,870 per car was $3 higher than one submitted by Charles Gabus Ford Co. of Holdrege.

However, Gabus informed the Purchasing Department Wednesday after the bid opening that it did not wish to enter into the contract, Beck said.

The purchasing agent said the Holdrege firm felt it would cost too much to come in and service the vehicles.

O'Shea Rogers supplied the Safety Patrol with 110 cars this year at a unit price of $2,054. Beck said he was particularly happy the state was able to get a lower price this year.

Beck said there will be no need for testing of the 1963 two-door Galaxies O'Shea will provide.

Beck explained that after the Lincoln Ford dealer ran out of 1962 models this year, the firm supplied about 20 1963 models. Beck said the patrol has found the 1963 model to be satisfactory.

Beck said if O'Shea cannot supply any more 1963 models toward the end of next year, then the purchasing Department will open its purchasing for the rest of the year to bids.

This is the same provision which will appear in the contract for other state vehicles which will be awarded following bidding Nov. 30.

The world's largest wildlife sanctuary is the Itosha Pan Conservation Territory in Southwest Africa. It covers 25,000 square miles, the size of Delaware and West Virginia combined. The area protects spectacular herds of antelopes, zebras and elephants.

FOS Unit Tells Its Expenses

The "Friends of Our Schools Committee" of Omaha Wednesday filed a report with the secretary of state detailing expenses for candidates the group supporetd in the recent election.

The committee report was signed by Frank C. Heinisch of Omaha, a member of the State Board of Education.

A total of $1,330 was spent in behalf of 6 Omaha candidates for the state Legislature. They were Sam Klaver, Eugene T. Mahoney, William S. Moulton, George Syas, Larry E. Welch and Frederick D. Williams.

Another $822 was spent for candidates for the Omaha School Board. Beneficiaries were Robert C. Cunningham, Mrs. Maurice Frank, Allen W. Fries, Richard H. Hiller, David H. Hiller, David H. Stahmer, Richard Swenson and George F. McCormick.

The groups also spent $19 in the successful campaign of Lancaster County District Judge Paul White for chief justice of the Nebraska Supreme Court.

Governor: NG Realignment Known Soon

Gov. Frank Morrison predicted Wednesday that the outline of the proposed new Defense Department reorganization of the National Guard will be made known in a month or so.

The governor said he is sure Nebraska will lose some men from its National Guard as a result, but that it won't be as many as first feared.

Morrison said he has opposed a reduction all along as have other governors. But he said Defense Department officials have explained that present national defense requirements demand realignment of the National Guard.

"What we are attempting to do is to work out a program of alignment which will provide the maximum degree of effectiveness of the organization both as a state militia in the hands of the governor to preserve the order and peace of the state and be of assistance in event of disaster, and at the same time to preserve its maximum effectiveness as a vital part of the national defense organization."

Senator Orme Contemplates At-Large Bill

State Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln said Wednesday she is contemplating legislation under which Douglas and Lancaster County senators would be elected at large, even if the change requires a constitutional amendment.

Douglas County's 7 senators and Lancaster's 3 legislators now are elected by district.

Mrs. Orme awaits an attorney general's opinion on whether the constitution as it now stands would permit such at-large elections in the two counties which have more than one senator.

If a constitutional change is required, she may propose such an amendment, Mrs. Orme said.

She declined comment on a statement by Omaha Sen. George Syas, who suggested Mrs. Orme should go a step farther and have all senators elected from the state at large.

Silent Revolution Stirs Hopes Of United States Of Europe—Perhaps Not Far Off

(EDITOR'S NOTE — By 1970 the world's most powerful land may not be the United States nor the Soviet Union but a country that doesn't even exist yet, the United States of Europe. In the first of a 3-part series on Western Europe today, a long experienced writer on Europe describes its surge for political unity and what it portends for the world.)

By RICHARD O'REGAN

Brussels (AP) — It took a bloody revolution to make the United States of America. A silent revolution may create a United States of Europe.

A great many European leaders believe the day is not far off—perhaps 5 years, perhaps 10 or 15. Others are not so optimistic—"What would we do with all our left-over kings and queens?" a Dutch historian asked with a sly smile.

German, French and Italian businessmen streaking across the old continent in sleek new trans-European expresses barely give the concept a passing thought. All they know is: Western Europe is booming, prosperous, on the go. That's sufficient for them.

It is for the majority of Europe's 300 millions, too. But government leaders, intellectuals and thousands of "Eurocrats" all over Europe are working hard to make reality out of what once was a starry-eyed dream.

This reality could mean that by 1970, a United Western Europe will have more manpower and industrial output than the United States. It will be stronger than the Soviet Union.

It could go far beyond economics.

Parliament Talked

"We hope it won't be long before Europe has a common parliament — perhaps even common currency and common citizenship," said an international group of students in a German youth hostel. This is the generation that will make Europe's future.

Jean Monnet, the extraordinary French wine grower, economist and statesman who has been the postwar power behind the scenes for creating a United States of Europe, says:

"We tend to miss the magnitude of the change in Europe because it is taking place by constitutional and democratic means."

What is really happening?

Since the war, West Europe's 18 nations have formed scores of organizations to talk and act together.

Brave Steps

Six of these nations, however, have taken braver steps. Led by France and Germany, ancient foes at each other's throats for 300 years, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg, have formed what is known both as the "European Community" and the "Common Market." Britain, Norway, Denmark and Ireland now are hoping to join. Other European countries also want to get in, but the Common Market countries so far guard their exclusivity.

If they get admitted, a United States of Europe may become a real possibility.

The 6 community nations already have achieved a great deal in the field of economics. They have:

(1) Abolished frontier formalities.

(2) Begun to exchange goods, people and capital without restriction. Germans who used to drive Opels and Volkswagens now are driving French and Italian cars. Europeans go from one country to another looking for better-paying jobs. German firms invest in Holland, Italian firms in Germany, etc.

(3) Given up considerable national sovereignty. One of their institutions, the Coal and Steel Authority, even has the power to levy taxes.

Biggest Exporter

With such steps, the European Community has become the world's biggest exporter and buyer of raw materials.

If Britain, Denmark, Norway and Ireland join soon, the community would then be the world's largest coal and steel producer. It would be handling some 40 per cent of the international trade of the non-Soviet world, its exports twice those of the United States.

The men who run the European Community, often called "Eurocrats," plan the policies of the Common Market, the Coal and Steel Authority and Euratom — Europe's common nuclear research project.

There are about 4,000 of these multilingual, dynamic young men.

The 6 community nations have their own 142-member parliament, appointed by national parliaments. There is a move to get it elected directly. The delegates sit according to their political affiliations, not their nationalities.

The 7 judges of the community's Court of Justice — which makes sure common decisions are carried out — are under oath not to take orders from any national government.

The 6 nations are still far from agreeing what sort of political union they would like to have — if any. But polls show an average of 75 per cent of Europe's population favor some sort of political union.

Does unity mean Europe would become a third power in the world, playing a precarious game between the United States and Russia?

Some Europeans would like to see this happen. But many European leaders agree with Monnet who says:

"We are going forward toward partnership with the United States."

This is what the American government hopes for, too. "We do not regard a strong and united Europe as a rival, but as a partner," said President Kennedy last July 4.

A trade partnership would mean an economic union of two-thirds of the world's industrial capacity exchanging the goods each makes best and cheapest with no tariff restrictions, and perhaps, eventually, European political union which would mean a common defense and foreign policy and thus greater security for the United States.

Not Easy

Such partnership is not imminent or easily achieved. Its champions in Europe—De Gaulle, Adenauer, Macmillan, Segni—are getting old. Groups in Germany think Europe should follow a third course between East and West. The big communist parties in France and Italy favor, of course, alliance with Russia.

But Britain's entry into the common union, it is hoped, will soften third force talk, strengthen sentiment for an Atlantic partnership and perhaps bring the elusive world peace. Says Monnet:

"When a partnership of American and a United Europe makes it plain to all that the West may change from within but that others cannot change it by outside pressures, the conditions will exist for a lasting settlement between the Soviet Union and the West.

"Personally, I do not think we shall have to wait long for this change."

Tomorrow: Capitalism Reborn.

Thanksgiving In Suburbia

"Dear the people coming home,
Dear glad faces long away,
Dear the merry cries, and dear
All the glad and happy play.
Dear the thanks, too, that we give
For all of this, Thanksgiving Day."

PARK MANOR

And many are the glad faces that are coming or going home in Park Manor. Making a real family weekend out of the holiday are Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Kuhle and their children, Kim, Kathy and Kenneth, who are with relatives in Viborg, S.D., today, and will go on to Sioux Falls, S.D., tomorrow to visit more friends and relatives in their former home town.

In Viborg, they are the guests of Mrs. Kuhle's brother-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Daniels. The Thanksgiving dinner will really be a family affair, as the Daniels' other guests include Mrs. Kuhle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Albertus of Sioux Falls; another sister and her family, Mrs. Eldon Schmahl, Mr. Schmahl and their three children, from Huron, S.D.; and Mr. Kuhle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kuhle of Sioux Falls.

Tomorrow, Mr. and Mrs. Kuhle and Kim, Kathy and Kenneth will be journeying on to Sioux Falls to spend the rest of the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Kuhle, Mr. and Mrs. Albertus, and several of their home town friends.

Denver, Colo., visitors are sharing the Thanksgiving feast of Mr. and Mrs. Edward (Bill) Barrett and their children, Ricky, Billy, and Nancy Ann. These special visitors are Mrs. Barrett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Elfline, and they will be in Lincoln until Saturday.

And though it's not too lengthy a trip that Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Yates are making this morning to the site of their Thanksgiving celebration, we're sure the visit will be greatly enjoyed.

Malcolm—and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Heidtbrink, Mrs. Yates' sister and brother-in-law, is the Thanksgiving Day destination.

Other Malcolm and Lincoln relatives, as well as an Omaha visitor, will be on hand at the Heidtbrink home this afternoon for the family celebration.

From Malcolm will be Mrs. Yates' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Carr, and her brother-in-law and sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nelson, Bruce and Byron.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Heim, Mrs. Yates' uncle and aunt, and their children, Ricky, Patty, and Jeanie, will be the other Lincoln guests in Malcolm.

And the Omaha visitor will be Mrs. Marge Heim, another of Mrs. Yates' aunts.

Mr. and Mrs. Yates also have been doing some entertaining of their own this week. Arriving last weekend at the Yates home were Mr. and Mrs. Don Bauer and their son, John of Kearney—formerly of Park Manor.

Mr. and Mrs. Bauer made their headquarters at the Yates home, but also managed to visit several of their former neighbors.

They returned to Kearney on Tuesday.

Leaving yesterday for their holiday in Springfield, Mo., were Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Irvine and their children, Linda and Jack. The Irvine family will be visiting until Sunday with Mr. Irvine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Caulkins.

MEADOW LANE

Thanksgiving has come and gone now, but there is still more turkey and dressing in many of the refrigerators, and we still have Thanksgiving visitors to talk about.

Returning today from Wilbur will be Mr. and Mrs. Nelson J. Shimonek who spent the holiday with Mrs. Shimonek's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mundil and Kathy. Also spending the day with their aunt and uncle and cousin were the little Shimoneks, Mike, Joan, and Susan.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Selko and their children, Steve, Jack, and Craig, returned home last evening after spending Thanksgiving in Lawrence. In Lawrence, the Selko family were the guests of Mrs. Selko's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Verkamp.

Dinner guests at the John R. Brown home yesterday were Mr. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown of Ceresco, and Mr. and Mrs. Joel Orear and their children, Ellen Jean, and Ricky. The holiday feast for the Browns and their neighbors, the Orears, was an evening affair.

Following dinner and some visiting, Mr. and Mrs. Brown returned to Ceresco, taking with them the Brown children, John and Joe, who will be staying with their grandparents until Sunday.

And right in the middle of their Thanksgiving visit are Mr. and Mrs. Tony E. Reilly and Mike and Diane. They left for Sioux City, Iowa on Wednesday where they are now visiting Mrs. Reilly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Bensley. Mr. and Mrs. Reilly and their children will be returning to Lincoln on Sunday.

Former Coeds Were Wednesday Brides

Candlelight Service

The marriage of Miss Rosemary Georgene Sieck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland H. Sieck, to Arthur Jacob Sass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Sass of Haigler, was solemnized Wednesday evening, Nov. 21, at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church. The lines of the candlelight service were read at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. Robert Nelsen, and Miss Anne Christensen, organist, played the wedding music. The vocal soloist was Miss Sally Cook.

The maid of honor and her sister's only attendant was Miss Margaret Sieck who was frocked in royal blue velveteen fashioned with a full overskirt of matching net. She carried blue-tinted carnations and pompon chrysanthemums.

Neil Metheny served Mr. Sass as best man, and seating the guests were Harvey Sieck, brother of the bride, and Alvin Adams.

For her wedding gown, the bride chose white brocaded satin. Floral appliques of Venise lace dotted with pearls edged the rounded neckline and the elbow sleeves of the bodice, and the skirt was caught into back fullness and continued into a chapel train. Her bouffant veil of illusion was held by a jeweled crown, and she carried a cascade of pompon chrysanthemums and pale blue-tinted carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Sass will make their home at 1425 So. 11th.

Candles burning in seven-branched holders, and arrangements of gold-shaded chrysanthemums and frosted greenery formed the background for the wedding of Miss Carol VoGene Jacobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jacobson of Syracuse, and Neil N. Nannen of Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ramond Nannen of Syracuse, which took place on Wednesday evening, Nov. 21, at the First Methodist Church in Syracuse. The 8 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. Fred E. Loder, and the wedding music was played by Don Thompson of Lincoln. Mrs. Robert Nannen was the vocal soloist.

Wearing alike frocks of emerald green peau de soie were attendants Mrs. Merle D. Roden of Millard, the matron of honor; Miss Donna Jacobson, the maid of honor, and bridesmaids Miss Sally Wittwer of Lincoln, and Miss Mary Strong. Their bouquets were fashioned of gold-tinted croton leaves and fujii chrysanthemums.

Gene R. Nannen of Nebraska City served as best man, and seating the guests were Merle D. Roden of Millard; John Hauschild, Bruce Brandt, both of Lincoln; Mike Nannen, James Peterson and William Blacker.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white delustered satin. The long-sleeved sculptured bodice was designed with a bateau neckline contoured with trampunta embroidery dotted with pearls. The bell-shaped skirt extended into a chapel train. Her bouffant veil of French illusion was held to the head with a crown of pearl orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

The bride attended the University of Nebraska where Mr. Nannen now is a junior in the Teachers College. He is a member of the Varsity basketball team and a member of N Club.

Mr. Nannen and his bride will reside at 1827 So. 14th St.

For the wedding of Miss Virginia Sue Hubka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Hubka of Lincoln and Dr. James H. Beaird of Monmouth, Ore., son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. Beaird of Scottsbluff, which took place on Wednesday evening, Nov. 21, the chancel of the Centenary Methodist Church in Beatrice was appointed with arrangements of greenery and white chrysanthemums. The Rev. Walter L. Jewett read the lines of the 7:30 o'clock service.

The maid of honor, Miss Lynn Heinrichs of Davenport, and the bridesmatrons, Mrs. Roger Wehrbein of Plattsmouth and Mrs. Harlan Hubka of Beatrice, wore alike costumes of holly green satin.

The best man was Dr. William Jensen of Plattsville, Wis., and the ushers were Harlan Hubka of Beatrice and Larry Hubka of Lincoln.

The bride appeared in a gown of white silk organza patterned with re-embroidered lace applique over taffeta. The fitted bodice was designed with a modified portrait neckline and bracelet-length sleeves, and the wide skirt was completed with a chapel train. A queen's crown of seed pearls held in place the silk illusion veil and she carried white orchids on a white Bible.

Following a honeymoon trip to the Canadian northwest, Dr. Beaird and his bride will reside in Monmouth, Ore.

The bride was a June graduate from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Dr. Beaird was graduated from Kearney State College, and received his Master's degree and his Ph.D. in education from the University of Nebraska.

Betrothal Revealed

MISS JUDY GARRETT

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garrett of the engagement of their daughter, Judy, to Ira Livingston, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Livingston of Schenectady, N.Y.

A June wedding is planned.

Miss Garrett will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska. Mr. Livingston also will be graduated in June from the College of Engineering at the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Pi Tau Sigma and Sigma Tau honoraries.

TOWN TALK

More news of guests this morning—One of them has come and gone, but it would not seem quite right not to have news of at least two Thanksgiving guests — Mr. and Mrs. John S. Roberts of Littleton, Colo., for instance. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts arrived on Wednesday morning and will spend the Thanksgiving weekend as the house guests of Mr. Roberts' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walton B. Roberts.

* * *

Our guest who chose to spend Thanksgiving at her own home is Mrs. Arthur J. Weaver of Falls City. Mrs. Weaver did spend several days in Lincoln, however—the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Weaver, Jr.

Mrs. Weaver came from Falls City to attend the christening service for her great-grandson, Benjamin Hart Weaver, son of Dr. and Mrs. Walt Weaver, which took place last Sunday at St. Matthews Church, Episcopal.

Following the ceremony there was a christening party for a small group of guests at the home of Dr. Weaver—and among them, of course, was Benjamin's great-grandmother.

The young man, by the way, is named for his great-great-grandfather, Benjamin Hart—Mrs. Weaver's father.

* * *

We also discovered that Dr. and Mrs. Weaver are to be host and hostess to members of their families—and a few guests—at Thanksgiving dinner at their home today.

The group will include Mr. Weaver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Weaver, Jr., Mrs. Weaver's mother, Mrs. O. V. Calhoun, and Dr. and Mrs. Lee Stover and two members of the younger generation of Stovers—Kathy and Jimmy.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Dble.	4 ♠	Dble.

Opening lead —five of diamonds.

Here is an odd result from a hand played in a team match.

At the first table, South bid a spade, West doubled, and North jumped to four spades, which East doubled. West led a diamond and South made the contract with two overtricks. He won the diamond, drew three rounds of trumps, cashed his remaining diamonds, discarding two hearts from dummy, and lost only a club trick. He scored 1,190 points.

East's double was not first-rate, to state it mildly. True, he did have some defensive strength, but he should also have realized from the bidding that he had a good hand offensively in either hearts or clubs.

North's leap to four spades indicated strongly that West had either a singleton or void in spades. East had three spades himself and the odds were great that North-South would have nine or ten spades between them.

East should therefore have known that a good deal of West's strength would lie in hearts and clubs, and that his hand would play well with one of those suits as trump. Rather than double, he should have bid either five hearts or clubs.

At the second table, East-West also missed their cue. Here South opened the bidding with a spade and West passed. West apparently didn't appreciate the distributional value of his hand in choosing to pass. Perhaps he was too point-count-conscious and felt that he could not double with only 11 points.

North bid four spades and everybody passed. Again a diamond was led and again South made six, but, being undoubled, the score came to only 680 points.

So the East-West pair at this table also did badly with their cards, although they managed to gain 510 points on the deal.

The result at both tables must be regarded as remarkable. Here was a case where East-West could make a slam in hearts or clubs without any trouble, and yet at neither table was either suit bid.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if I owe this old lady an apology. I am a teen-ager. I help take care of an elderly, bedfast woman. She must be about 80. Once in a while she pulls my hair or throws a glass of water on me. Twice I lost my temper and hit her. Once I bruised her arm and the other time I blackened her eye. She told me I couldn't work for her until I learned to control my temper and apologize. Is it my fault that I can't stand old people who aren't mentally right?

KANSAS

DEAR KANSAS: You not only owe this lady an apology, you owe yourself a self-improvement program. Striking anyone (and particularly an elderly, bedfast person) is cruel and inexcusable. Until you can control your temper you should not be placed in charge of anyone. There is always hope for one with a conscience.

DEAR ABBY: That guy who said a wedding ring was only for women is nuts! I have worn a wedding ring, placed on my finger by my beloved wife, for 22 years. To me it is as important as the ring I placed on HER finger. It's gold, but it would mean as much if it were chicken wire.

HOOKED AND HAPPY

DEAR ABBY: I wish our neighbors would mind their own business. But since they are curious as to why I drive the old car to work and my wife drives the new one, please inform them that I drive my old car only to the home of a co-worker. I park it there and ride to work in HIS car. HIS car is new. He leaves the OLD one for his wife, and if they want to know why, they should ask him.

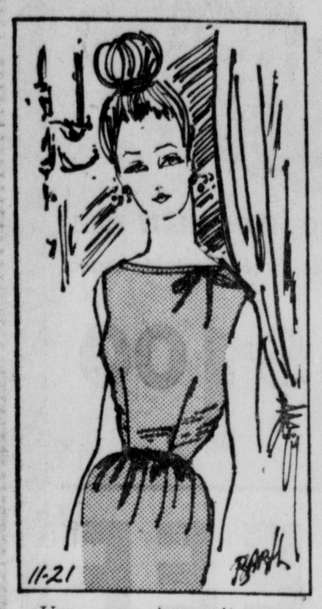
Questions, Answers

Patricia Scott



Use your ingenuity once in a while. Try something completely new just for kicks.

Q. I love your sewing articles and have learned a great deal from them. However, I'm still an apprentice and very often you use words that are a mystery to me. For instance, just what does tension mean, and how can you tell if it's right?—Mrs. P. L.

A. The word "tension" means "tightness" in reference to the sewing machine threads. If the stitches look exactly the same on both sides of the fabric, the tension is correctly adjusted. If one side shows more thread than the other this means the adjustment is incorrect.

Q. Very often when I make a dress, I get wrinkles from the front darts running up and out towards the side bust (I've made a rough sketch so you can see what I mean.) What causes these wrinkles? The patterns seem to fit well and I follow them perfectly.—Miss B. O.

A. Though your patterns fit well, they do not allow you enough room at the front darts. They are too wide. If you let them out a bit, you'll find that the wrinkles will disappear.

Q. How can I make a pattern of a simple dress I have which is still too good to take apart? I may be dreaming, but I'd like to try it and take a chance. I've been sewing for years and I play around with patterns a great deal.—Mrs. L. F.

A. This is really rather difficult to do, because of the darts. But I've done it successfully on dresses with very simple lines. Turn the dress wrong side out and place it on paper. Using a large needle, perforate through the dress to the paper on all seams and darts, using a separate sheet of paper for each dress piece. Then measure your darts and draw them on the paper pattern.

Patricia Scott has prepared a booklet, HOW TO ALTER YOUR DRESS PATTERNS, which gives complete instructions for altering so that finished garments will fit perfectly. For your copy of this guide to correct fitting, write to Patricia Scott in care of The Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Nebraska, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25c in coin to cover costs of printing and handling.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

In some curious way, rich Brazil is broke as day before payday. The cruzeiro exchanges 625 for the U.S. $1 — it was an inflationary 200 to $1 when I was here a couple of years ago.

The greased cruzeiro slides so badly that the great Brazilian gem shops cannot price tag their jewelry.

"What we do is code tag it," explained the gem merchant in Sao Paulo. "The salesman has a loose leaf code book. When the cruzeiro changes, we change the pages in the book."

"It would take days to make new price tags. But the pages in the book are easily retyped. The code letters on the tag are still the same. But the meaning of them in numbers of cruzeiros is changed to meet the new exchange."

☆ ☆ ☆

For the dollar-bearing American, this is an excellent proposition. It takes time for the economy to change to meet the new rate of dollars to cruzeiros.

Hotel and restaurant prices are high if you are paid in cruzeiros. But if you get 625 cruzeiros for your dollar, a restaurant check of 1,300 is—well, you can hardly afford to stay home.

For $15 you can buy a lot of electricity in the elegant Stardust nightclub. And a bottle of beer is a few cents.

☆ ☆ ☆

In spite of all this, Sao Paulo has grown in a few years from 2 million to 5 million people and is in a fantastic business boom.

"We complete a new house or apartment every 10 minutes," they told me.

The skyscrapers rise in a strange silence. There is not a sound of riveting guns.

Brazil's building laws do not require steel structures. The country has never had an earthquake. So 30-story buildings are simply built of poured concrete, reinforced with a few steel rods through it.

"They say God has been good to Brazil," said the Brazilian. "We have no earthquakes, typhoons or other natural destroyers. So we do not need structural steel."

If I were a Brazilian, I would be happy too. Also I would go to church regularly.

It is an eerie feeling to live on the sixteenth floor of a hotel held together with about enough steel to make a dozen bicycles.

There is one structural steel building in the whole city. It belongs to a Brazilian steel company. And when it was going up, it drew thousands of curious people. They had never seen anything like it in their lives.

☆ ☆ ☆

Faith also affects the daily health of the Brazilian. No prescriptions are needed in the drug stores. The hangover and the cold are dosed by pointing to what looks good to you on the shelves.

The druggist will give you almost any kind of injection.

"We all become practicing physicians," said the Brazilian. "If I have a cold, I take something the druggist offers me. At coffee time, a friend says: "Oh, you should try this other kind of medicine. It was good for me.' So at noon I go out and get his medicine.

'In the afternoon, somebody says: 'Go to this drugstore and get this special injection. It is very new. 'So I get that. And something cures the cold."

☆ ☆ ☆

With a body full of miracle drugs and a pocketful of falling currency, the man from Sao Paulo rushes to get both spent as fast as possible.

It's a here-today, gone-tomorrow climate. And if it isn't healthy, it certainly is exciting.

Small-Firm Aid Up 44 Pct. In Year

Washington—Business loans from the federal Small Business Administration in fiscal 1962 totaled $360,762,000, up 44% from fiscal 1960. Disaster loans and loans to local development companies also increased.

Indian Poem Longest

New Delhi—The longest poem in existence is the old Indian epic poem, "The Mahabharata," which means in Sanskrit "The Great Story." About 100,000 verses tell a story of rival clans in India's Age of Chivalry—about 700 B.C.

Only The Others Are Embarrassed—She Thinks It's Fun To Be Stanley

"Miss Stanley Stryson? You're kidding."

This reaction is a fairly common one heard by Stanley Jean Stryson of Seward, who is really a girl despite her name.

Having a boy's name could be a real problem, but Stanley has found it to be a lot of fun.

A sophomore majoring in elementary education at the University of Nebraska, she finds the surprise of people meeting her for the first time the most amusing part of having her name.

Surprised Or Embarrassed

"People either are very surprised, or they're very embarrassed to say anything about it because they think I'll be embarrassed. And it doesn't bother me at all," she said.

The name came from the middle names of both of her parents—Paul Stanley and Emily Jean. In addition, her mother had known a girl in college whose name was Stanley, and Mrs. Stryson had always liked the name.

Stanley insists that she was not named because her parents wanted a boy. "I would have been Stanley either way," she said.

Stanley's 16-year-old sister, Leslie, might have some similar experiences with a boy's name, Stanley feels. However, her brothers Paul, Matthew and John will miss the fun of unusual names.

Nothing Unusual

In grade school at Seward, Stanley and her friends saw nothing unusual in her name because they did not realize that there is a difference between girls' and boys' names, she said.

Teasing began in junior high, so Stanley tried to switch to using her middle name. "It didn't work, because everyone was so used to 'Stanley' that they just kept calling me that," she remarked.

When her class was nearly ready to be graduated from Seward High School, most of the girls were receiving bulletins and publicity from women's colleges.

MISS STANLEY STRYSON

Stanley, on the other hand, was getting information from the Army, Navy and Marines, as well as from trade schools. Much of her mail was then, and still is, addressed to "Mr. Stanley Stryson."

Although she complained to her mother about her name, Stanley has found that it helps people to remember her. Campaigning for office in mock county government elections in high school, she was able to attract attention with her appeal for votes for "Stan Your Man."

A few more name problems have arisen for her at the University, because people are not accustomed to her name, Stanley said. Her freshman roommate in the dormitory was a girl named Maxine, who was called Max. When Maxine learned that her roommate was a Stanley, she was sure that she had been put in the men's dormitory. After straightening this out, the girls created quite a sensation in the women's quarters with a sign on their door proclaiming that Max and Stanley lived in the room.

"University instructors always call on me as Mr. Stryson. When a girl answers, they look shocked. Usually they apologize, though," she chuckled.

Stanley has to be careful to fill out all forms using the title "Miss." In spite of this, even a jewelry company handling fraternity and sorority pins sent her Alpha Phi worority pin to "Mr. Stryson." "I don't know what they thought a boy would be doing with a sorority pin," she added.

Morrison Wants To 'Study' Tax Report Before He Tells Opinion

Gov. Frank Morrison said Wednesday he wants to study "intensely" Dr. Harold McClelland's tax study report before he makes any statement on it.

Morrison noted, however, that he has always been against the adoption of a state income or sales tax. Whether his stand will change depends on the merit of the proposals, and if McClelland's recommendations could prove feasible for Nebraska, he said.

McClelland has recommended a flat, low-rate income tax as a replacement for the state's property tax.

State Tax Commissioner Forest Johnson said he likes some of the property tax improvement ideas advanced in the study report.

Appoint Equalizers

He specifically said he likes the recommendation for appointing county boards of equalization, but reserved comment on the suggestion that county assessors be appointed.

One of those county assessors did not reserve comment on that subject. Joe Stolinski, Douglas Couty assessor, disagreed with the recommend ion and said:

"If the assessor were appointed by the county board through the state tax commission, he would be obligated to those groups. As it is now, he is under obligation only to the people."

On the matter of tax systems, Dr. Allan Burkhardt, executive director of the Nebraska Association of Taxpayers, said an income tax might reduce property taxes — for a year or two.

He added, however, that the record of other states shows the property taxes creep back up and often surpass old levels.

As a result, he said, the association is opposed to any new taxes, including sales or income tax proposals.

Nels Peterson, secretary-treasurer of the Nebraska AFL-CIO, said an income tax would be preferable to a sales tax, but said he wants to see the bills as actually drafted.

Heavy Fire Chief Didn't Use Poles

Denver (UPI) — Asst. Fire Chief Frank Soper, 65, retired after 37 years service and confessed he had taken the stairs, rather than the firemen's pole, on fire calls for the past 10 years.

"I got so heavy I thought I might end up in the basement," Soper said.

School Evacuated In Three Minutes

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP) —About 900 students and 50 teachers evacuated a junior high school in 3 minutes when fire broke out on the stage of the school auditorium.

No one was injured. The blaze caused about $15,000 damage, firemen said.

"The children heard the alarm, thought it was a fire drill, and the school was emptied in 3 minutes," said Thomas J. Connors, principal of Clinton Junior High School.

3 Consolidations Of Schools OKd

The State Committee for the Reorganization of School Districts reported Wednesday it has approved 3 petition proposals for school consolidations.

They were:

Dakota, Dixon and Thurston Counties—To attach a portion of Dist 29 to District 61R (Emerson).

Dixon and Cedar Counties —Dissolve School District 63 (Concordia) and attach it to District 54 (Laurel).

Holt County—Attach a portion of School District 87 to District 137 (Chambers).

The approval of the committee is not binding. The committee will meet again Dec. 11.

—DON GALLAGHER—

Games Fixed By NC State Player

Raleigh, N.C. (AP)— Don Gallagher, a former North Carolina State basketball player, testified Wednesday he was paid $5,000 to shave points in 5 games, but returned $2,000 of the money because things didn't work out right in two of the games.

He told a Superior Court jury he received the money from Joseph Green of New York, who faces trial here on bribery charges stemming from the basketball game fixing scandals. Green has pleaded guilty to similar charges in New York.

Gallagher, 26, a lieutenant in the Army stationed in Germany, admitted under cross examination he was promised immunity from prosecution by Solicitor prosecutor Lester V. Chalmers Jr. if he would cooperate fully in a probe of the game-fixing charges.

Gallagher, a native of Wilkes Barre, Pa., was the first witness called at the trial of Dave Goldberg, 46, and Steve Lekometros, 39, of St. Louis on multiple bribery charges. They pleaded innocent.

"I didn't purposely dump any ball game," Gallagher told the jury. "I know that I have been guilty of sloughing off," he said, by "laying back" from the player he was defending.

He said he was paid $1,000 each to "work the N.C. State-Wake Forest game on Dec. 5, 1959; the N.C. State-Dayton game during the Dixie Classic Tournament Dec. 28, 1959; the N.C. State-Maryland game, Feb. 13, 1960, and two games against Duke in 1960.

Gallagher said he returned the $2,000 on the two Duke games because things did not work out as anticipated. He testified Green came to his apartment the night of Feb. 9, 1960, and was upset because N.C. State had won over Duke when Duke was favored.

Gallagher said he explained to Green that he had to play well in the game or be sent to the bench and that the State team was clicking. Duke, he added, did not play well.

He said Green told him a man was waiting outside in a car and wanted to see him. Gallagher said Green cautioned him to be careful "because someone in the car has a gun."

The former N.C. State star said he met Goldberg, who got out of the car to talk to him. He testified that Goldberg asked him if he had had any idea how much money was lost on the game. Gallagher said he did not recall a specific figure, but that Goldberg told him it was many thousands of dollars.

Lawyers For Molinas Have 'Vital Paper'

New York (AP)—Two lawyers testified Wednesday that a Bowling Green, Ohio, basketball player, now a major prosecution witness against Jack Molinas, signed a paper last January which denied the defendant had bribed him to fix basketball games.

Molinas is on trial in Supreme Court before Justice Joseph Sarafite and a jury of 8 men and 4 women on charges of bribing Bill Reed, a former Bowling Green player, to control 3 games. Molinas also is accused of conspiracy in attempting to fix 25 college basketball games and with subornation of perjury.

Justice Sarafite ruled that the jury would have to decide whether the paper signed by Reed in Molinas' law office was actually an affidavit.

Reed signed the paper, according to his own testimony, on Jan. 16, 1962, the day after he was brought here from Bowling Green by a detective from the district attorney's office for questioning in a basketball bribery investigation.

Stuart, Schwall 'Name' Trades

. . . PAGLIARONI, LAMABE ALSO

Pittsburgh (AP)—Inter-league trading opened with a bang Wednesday as the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Boston Red Sox announced a swap of 4 front-line players that appeared on the surface to satisfy all concerned.

In a deal that Pirate General Manager Joe L. Brown said "was fairly well consummated sometime back," the Pirates sent slugging first baseman Dick Stuart and relief pitcher Jack Lamabe to the Red Sox for starting hurler Don Schwall and catcher Jim Pagliaroni.

It was the second major trade announced by the Pirates in less than 48 hours.

Bucs Active

On Monday, Pittsburgh traded All-Star shortstop Dick Groat and aging relief pitcher Diomedes Olivo to St. Louis for starting pitcher Don Cardwell and infielder Julio Gotay.

"I feel the Pirates are getting a good young catcher and a fine pitcher," Brown told newsmen.

"I don't think either man has reached his potential yet. And, I think we are now in a better position to win the pennant."

Tom Yawkey, president of the Red Sox, was just as pleased as Brown.

"It follows up what I promised in New York at the World Series when I said we were ready to make every intelligent move we can to improve the Red Sox," Yawkey said from his home in South Carolina.

Key men in the deal were Stuart and Schwall. Both were disappointments last season after posting illustrious records in 1961.

Stu Slumped

Stuart, a cocky, 30-year-old slugger with a penchant for controversy, batted a low .228 with just 16 homers and 64 runs-batted-in last season. The previous year, he hit .301 with 35 home runs and 117 RBI.

"I'm very happy about the trade," Stuart said, "and I publicly want to thank Joe L. Brown for sending me to the Red Sox. That's where I wanted to go and I feel I can hit a lot more home runs in that small park."

Mike Higgins, the Red Sox vice president who managed the club last season, agreed with Stuart. He told a news conference in Boston, "When you get a player with the home run potential of Stuart, you have to give first line players."

Top Rookie

The 24-year-old Schwall was the American League's Rookie-Of-The-Year in 1961 when he won 15 and lost 7 and had a 3.22 earned run average. But the 6-foot-6 right hander slipped badly last season to a 9-15 record and 4.64 ERA.

"Schwall's main trouble has been control," Brown said. "We scouted him during the last two months of the season and I don't think anything will keep him from regaining his 1961 form."

Schwall, a school teacher in Oklahoma during the winter, learned of the trade while visiting his parents near Colorado Springs, Colo.

"I think it is a great deal for me—going from an 8th place club to a real pennant contender," Schwall said. "I think the way I pitch I'm made better for National League competition, being a low-ball pitcher. It's a new start."

Sleepers?

Pagliaroni and Lamabe may prove to be the sleepers in the trade. Both are young with bright futures.

Pagliaroni, 24, was Boston's starting catcher last season. Although he hit only .242 with 16 homers and 58 RBI, Brown feels he's "potentially a great catcher."

Lamabe, a rookie last year, was the Pirates' early inning relief man. The 26-year-old right-hander pitched in 77 innings and finished with a 3-1 record and 3.04 ERA. He also was credited with 3 saves.

Lamabe, who has been working on a physical education degree in the off season, said between classes at the University of Pittsburgh that he was indifferent to the trade.

Willie Ross Back To Full Practice

. . . COLD STILL BOTHERS

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Willie Ross returned to full duty Wednesday afternoon as the Nebraska Cornhuskers continued polishing offenses and defenses for the Oklahoma Sooners.

Ross is suffering from a heavy cold and may be available for only limited duty in the season finale at Norman.

Warren Powers, senior left halfback who has also seen heavy duty at fullback this fall, is being groomed for the starting assignment.

With Ross back in action, the Huskers are at near-full strength for the crucial contest, which could net them a tie for the Big 8 title and a bowl bid.

Early Drill

Thursday's final home practice will be held at 9:30 a.m., Coach Bob Devaney said.

The Cornhuskers will celebrate Thanksgiving with a big turkey dinner at King's Restaurant today.

"There won't be any Sustagen on Thanksgiving," Devaney joked, referring to the liquid pre-game diet the Scarlets use.

Second Trip

This will mark Devaney's second trip to Norman, but the first as a head coach.

"I was there with Duffy Daugherty (Michigan State) to watch Oklahoma's spring practice for a couple of days back in 1955," Devaney said.

Husker Edge

Strangely enough, in view of the Sooner's defensive reputation, Nebraska has fared better in defensive rushing than Oklahoma.

Nebraska has allowed 9 opponents 1084 yards rushing for an average of 120.4 yards per game. Oklahoma has allowed an identical total in 8 games for a 135.5 aberage.

In total defense, however, the Sooners have a slight edge. They have allowed 1552 yards for a 194-yard average, while Nebraska has yielded 1820 in 9 games for a 202.2 mark.

Both teams have gained 130 first downs, but the Huskers have limited opponents to 60 in 9 games, while OU has been tapped for 88 in 8 games.

Offensively, Nebraska has averaged 265.2 rushing and 98.8 yards passing for a total offense average of 364.1. Oklahoma has averaged 250.6 rushing and 58.5 passing for a total offense average of 340 yards per game.

Looney Leads

Transfer halfback Joe Don Looney is the Sooner's top gainer with 732 yards and a 6.8 average.

Fullback Jim Grisham, who bombed Missouri, has netted 457 yards and has a 4.7 average.

Quarterback Monte Deere has run for 64 yards and a 1.6 average, which isn't spectacular, but he's hit 23 of 37 passes for 484 yards and 3 touchdowns. His passing percentage is a fine 62 per cent.

Trip Set

The Cornhuskers will fly to Oklahoma City Friday afternoon, then bus directly to Norman for a workout at Owen Field. They'll return to Oklahoma City and headquarter at the Sheraton Oklahoma Hotel Friday night and Saturday night after the game.

They'll fly home Sunday noon.

Colorado Regents To Meet

Boulder, Colo. (AP) — University of Colorado regents have called a special meeting for Friday night as rumors circulate that William (Bud) Davis will resign as football coach after the season-ending game with Air Force Saturday.

Davis

This is Davis' first season at the helm as successor to Everett (Sonny) Grandelius, who was dismissed last March. The Buffaloes, shorn of 36 players from last spring's squad through ineligibility, injury and other causes, have lost all but one of their 9 games this fall.

Colorado won the Big Eight Conference championship last year, then lost to Louisiana State in the Orange Bowl.

Quigg Newton, university president, said, "It's not true," in referring to a report he has received a letter of resignation from Davis.

Davis had had no college coaching experience when offered the head coaching job. He was director of alumni relations at the university after formerly coaching Greeley High School grid teams.

Earlier this week members of the Buffalo Club, a booster organization, signed a resolution asking the removal of 65-year-old Harry Carlson as director of athletics.

Junior Bowl Dec. 15

Tyler, Tex. (AP) — A Texas junior college bowl game between Henderson County of Athens, Tex. and Trinidad, Colo., will be played here Dec. 15.

—JOHN CARROLL U—

Undefeated Team; But Not In Bowl

Cleveland (AP)— John Carroll University swept undefeated through 7 games, shut out its last 5 opponents and set 4 national defensive records — but won't be in any post-season football game.

"Our President's Athletic Conference prohibits bowl games," athletic director Herb Eisele said Wednesday. "But it's been a great season. We'll never get a better one and those records will stand a long time."

The records including holding 7 foes to an average of minus one yard per game in rushing. Penn State had owned the big school mark of plus 17 yards set in 1947. New Haven State set the record of 17.1 yards for small schools in 1951.

The Blue Streaks, coached by John Ray, gave up only 44.4 yards a game, bettering the 69.9 yards yielded by Santa Clara in 1937 and the 71.3 by San Jose State in 1939. John Carroll also limited opponents to a minus .032 yards per rush and an average of 1 yard an offensive play.

"If you have a good defense, you'll never be disgraced," Ray said. He puts so much emphasis on defense that in his 4 seasons at the school, his teams have won 22 of 28 games including a 7-0 mark in 1959 and have marked up 14 shutouts.

"You'll never lose a game if you don't let the opponent score," Ray said in another of his gems of logic. "Defense is a matter of pride. "We teach our boys to treat their goal line as something sacred."

Associated Press Lauds Three Husker Linemen

Kansas City, (AP) — A trio of Nebraska linemen have won praise from the Associated Press District 5 All-America board the past two weeks and the outcome of the crucial Nebraska-Oklahoma game at Norman, Okla., Saturday could hinge on their performance.

The 3 are Bob Brown, a 6-foot-5, 295-pound guard; Lloyd Voss, 245-pound tackle, and Ron Michka, 203-pound center. They have come fast since Bob Devaney's team suffered its only defeat against Missouri.

A pair of seniors, tackle Tyrone Robertson (229) and guard Dwain Carlson (210), have been outstanding all season for Nebraska. The other 3 had been inconsistent.

Nebraska completely dominated the line play in its last two games, victories over Kansas and Oklahoma State.

Oklahoma's line was superb in limiting Missouri to 111 yards on the ground in a 13-0 victory Saturday. Center Wayne Lee (211), tackle Dennis Ward (213) and guard Leon Cross (207) were among the standouts. The second team looked almost as good, led by sophomores Ralph Neely, a 245-pound tackle, and Ed McQuarters, 230-pound guard. The board rates all 5 highly.

Nebraska's first team line averages 229 pounds from tackle to tackle, 17 pounds more than the Big Red. But Oklahoma's alternate line averages 220 to Nebraska's 210.

Other linemen the Midlands board highly rated included ends Conrad Hitchler, Missouri, John Simmons, Tulsa, and Ken Blair, Colorado; tackles Jerry Wallach, Missouri, Marv Coothier, Kansas, and Tony Liscio, Tulsa; guard Tom Hertz, Missouri, Ken Reed, Tulsa, and Dick Walton, Iowa State; centers Jim Vermillion, Missouri, and Pete Quatrochi, Kansas.

The board rates Dave Hoppmann, Iowa State's do-everything senior, and Dennis Claridge of Nebraska as the two best quarterbacks; Gale Sayers of Kansas, Johnny Roland of Missouri and Joe Don Looney of Oklahoma as the best halfbacks; and Oklahoma's Jim Grisham and Iowa State's Tom Vaughn the best fullbacks because both are two-way performers.

Sayers, Roland, Grisham and Vaughn are all sophomores, but the board pointed out some backs have their best years as rookies. A prime example was Nebraska's Bobby Reynolds, who set the conference one-season rushing record of 1,342 yards as a sophomore in 1950.

O'Connor, Jonathan Mat Foes

New Zealand's Pat O'Connor and Don Leo Jonathan will be on hand tonight at Pershing Auditorium to celebrate Thanksgiving Day in the professional rassle ring.

They'll tangle in the main event of Promoter Jack Pesek's Turkey Day extravaganza.

O'Connor, just returned to this country from a sparkling tour in New Zealand and Australia, and Jonathan, the mighty Mormon from Salt Lake City, will battle in a 2 of 3-fall, 60-minute limit match.

Adding a feminine touch to the card will be the semifinal match, which pits Christa Clark against Kathy Starr. The gals' hairpulling bee is slated for 2 falls or 45 minutes.

Opening the 8:30 p.m., show will be a one fall match between Pierre Robert, the Parisian Peacock, and bearded Ivan Zukov.

Booked in the special event, a one fall or 30-minute affair, are handsome Guy Mitchell and the cagy veteran, Lee Henning.

Defending Don Carter Snares Bowling Lead

Chicago (AP)— Don Carter, the 4-time champion from St. Louis, pulled ahead of the field Wednesday night in the match game finals of the World's Invitational Bowling Tournament.

With the men finished with their first 3 rounds in a schedule of 6 4-game matches, Carter, the 1957-59-60-61 champion, had a total of 61-40 Petersen points. He won 9 games and lost only 3. Carter had 2,640 pins for his 12 games, an average of exactly 220 per game.

The 36-year-old former professional baseball player beat Pat Patterson of St. Louis, 3 games to one, while rolling 917, then stopped Bill Lillard of Dallas, three games to one as he shot 856, and then won 3 games from the qualifying leader, Dick Weber of St. Louis, by shooting 867.

In second place among the men after 3 rounds or 12 games, was Bob Strampe of Detroit with 59-14 Peterson points. Ray Bluth of St. Louis was 3rd with 59-01.

The tournament is decided on a Petersen point basis with a point being awarded for each game won and additional points for every 50 pins knocked down.

Highs for the day included a 279 game by Strampe and Carter's 917 series.

The men will bowl 4 more matches Thursday, 3 on Friday, 4 Saturday, and the final two including the position round on Sunday.

The 16 women finalists shot two matches with the 1957 and 1960 champion Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., taking the lead among the 16 finalists who are bowling 16 3-game matches, also on the Petersen point system, through Sunday.

Mrs. Ladewig, who averaged 200 in leading the qualifiers, rolled 636 in her first match to win two games from Ann Setlock of Detroit. Marion came back in her second match to sweep all 3 games from Jere Price of Fort Worth, Texas, with a series of 662.

PLOTTING STRATEGY . . . Franciscan friars, all Packer fans, decked out in Green Bay sweatshirts.

Green Bay-Detroit Battle Tops Turkey Day Activity

Detroit (AP) — Jim Taylor against the Detroit Lions' defensive line . . . The top runner in the National Football League against the stingiest, most bruising tacklers.

The Lions did as well as any team in harnessing the Green Bay Packers' battering ram for half a game last month. And they feel they can do it again Thursday.

The Packers, riding along 10-0 and set on becoming the first team in 20 years to go through an NFL schedule with a perfect record, play the Lions in their annual Thanksgiving clash. The Lions, 8-2, are the only team with a chance of catching the Packers in the Western Division.

The rematch between the two rivals has been a sellout for weeks. It will be seen by 55,000 fans in Tiger Stadium and national television audience, starting at noon, EST CBS.

Detroit came within a blade of grass of beating the Packers Oct. 7 at Green Bay when the Lions held the leading offense in the NFL without a touchdown. Terry Barr slipped on the wet turf and the Packers' Herb Adderley intercepted a pass. The interception was turned into a last-ditch field goal that wiped out Detroit's 7-6 lead and presented the Packers with a 9-7 victory.

That day—in the second half—the Lions stopped Taylor with scant yardage. Taylor's bull rushes gained 77 yards in the first half. But in the second half, he was held to only 18 yards.

"We changed something at halftime," said coach George Wilson, whose Lions have yielded the least yardage to ground gainers of any NFL team. "We always change something at halftime if we have to. This time, we . . ."

Wilson's voice stopped and pro football's best kept secret —how to combat Taylor—remained undisclosed.

Taylor, especially since "Paul Hornung should be ready to play,' said coach Vince Lombardi, who has been without his scoring ace since Oct. 14 except for five minutes. "But I might not even use him."

If Hornung doesn't play, Lombardi will go with Tom Moore, whose sensational running has made Taylor extra dangerous.

The Lions will have Barr back after a 5-game absence with a knee injury. Barr was the NFL's No. 1 pass receiver when he was hurt Oct. 14. But Detroit will be without Nick Pietrosante, its chief threat on the ground, who's idled by a knee injury.

A Green Bay victory would assure the Packers of at least a tie in the Western Division with three games left. A Detroit victory would leave Green Bay with a one-game lead and somebody else also would have to beat the Packers for the Lions to scramble back into a tie.

Paul Hornung has been sidelined, has destroyed just about every other defense he's encountered. In 10 games, Taylor has gained 1,121 yards —a record clip. And he's had two 4-touchdown games.

The Lions, also in 10 games, have yielded 776 yards to all enemy runners including Taylor.

—REPLACES DOHERTY—

Senators GM Post To George Selkirk

Washington (AP)—George Selkirk, who replaced Babe Ruth in right field for the New York Yankees 27 years ago, took on another tough job Wednesday — trying to build a winning baseball team in Washington.

Selkirk, 54, currently field coordinator for the Baltimore Orioles, was given a two-year contract as Washington General Manager. His salary was not announced.

He replaced Ed Doherty, who was fired after the Senators finished in 10th place in the American League for the second year in a row.

Will Meet Friday

Selkirk said he will meet with field manager Mickey Vernon Friday to study players who will be available in the major league draft.

"We should come to some agreement over the weekend as to what we need most," he said.

"We hope to get two or 3 players who will help us."

The Senators have pared their roster in the prospect of drafting half a dozen or so players during the draft sessions Monday in Rochester, N.Y.

Plenty of Money

Selkirk also said he had been informed there was plenty of money available to purchase ball players, if he could find any suitable ones for sale.

But he said his major job in Washington would be the development of a farm system.

"In the long run," Selkirk said, "the only way to get ball players is to go out and sign youngsters and develop them yourself."

Selkirk, who flew in for the afternoon news conference from Florida, where he had been working with the Baltimore team in the Florida Instructional League, said there were enough minor league teams looking for working agreements with major league teams so that lining up places to put players was no problem.

Announced Also

Senator president E. R. Pete Quesada announced also that Joe Burke, assistant general manager under Doherty, had been given a two-year contract as business manager at a substantial increase in salary.

Quesada said Selkirk would be responsible for the baseball side of the operation with Burke handling business details. Burke has acted as general manager since Doherty left.

Dunkel Gives Sooners 8-Point Nod Over NU

. . . SEES WISCONSIN WIN

By DICK DUNKEL

Last September, with gassy pomposity, we sports hacks voted the Wisconsin and Oklahoma football teams as fairly likely to fizzle this fall.

Now they're duelling for the national No. 1 rating. The only fizzle was the vote.

Next Saturday both face rugged final opponents and on the line will be conference titles, bowl bids, and—could be—the national championship.

The Wisconsin - Minnesota match at Madison and the Oklahoma-Nebraska game at Norman figure as the closest of those involving Top 12 raters this week, wherein the Dunkel Index differences are as follows:

Thursday

Texas 18 over Texas A&M

Saturday

Wisconsin 6 over Minnesota.
Oklahoma 8 over Nebraska.
LSU 35 over Tulane.
Missouri 14 over Kansas.
Washington 20 over Wash. St.
Ohio St. 17 over Michigan.
So. Calif. 17 over UCLA.

So far this season, the higher rating team has won 76.1% of the 1,642 games, not counting ties, which have been covered here.

Index differences—or pars—in other big games this week:

Thursday

Tulsa 12 over Wichita, Va. Tech 10 over VMI, N.C. State 16 over Wake Forest, Richmond 2 over Wm. & Mary.

Friday

Northwestern 1 over Miami, Fla.

Saturday

EAST—Penn State 11 over Pitt, Syracuse 12 over W. Virginia, Dartmouth 19 over Princeton, Holy Cross 22 over Connecticut, Harvard 13 over Yale, Cornell 7 over Penn.

MIDWEST—Iowa 3 over Notre Dame, Purdue 5 over Indiana, Mich. State 13 over Illinois.

SOUTH—Memphis State 34 over Detroit, Florida State 4 over Auburn, Duke 16 over N. Carolina, Clemson 4 over S. Carolina, Maryland 12 over Virginia, Tennessee 12 over Kentucky.

SOUTHWEST—Arkansas 27 over Texas Tech, Arizona State 19 over Arizona, Rice even with TCU, Baylor 3 over SMU.

FAR WEST—Oregon 4 over Oregon State, Air Force 29 over Colorado, Stanford 7 over California.

DEER HUNTING SUCCESS UP 20%

Rifle deer hunters scored 65.7 per cent success in Nebraska this season, a 20 per cent improvement over last year, the State Game Commission reported Wednesday

A record total of 13,460 hunters purchased permits this fall and 8,849 of these bagged their deer.

Factors contributing to increased hunter success this year included extension of the season from 5 to 9 days, and the addition of areas where either-sex hunting was permitted either on the last day or for the entire season.

Keya Paha, one of the two management units that allowed either-sex hunting through the season, recorded the highest success figure, 87.1 per cent.

Success scores in other areas:

Plains 82.7 per cent, Upper Platte 78.8, Loup 76.8, Sand Hills 74.5, Elkhorn 72.6, Pine Ridge 60.3, Platte 68.2, Frenchman 50.3, Calamus 60.7, Buffalo 68.9, Republican 45.2, Missouri 60.2, Wahoo 45.8, Omaha 41.4, Blue 43.7 and Nemaha 29.9.

Grimsley Sees 28-14 Margin For Oklahoma

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press
Sports Writer

Old rivalries and bowl pressures take some of the certainty out of the college football games this week, but the teams with winning habits should wind up with a flourish.

The nod goes to Southern California, Wisconsin, Texas, LSU, Arkansas and Oklahoma in the future conflicts.

Southern California 7, UCLA 0: The 3-deep Trojans survive a bruiser and win a trip to Pasadena, a two-bit bus ride.

Wisconsin 17, Minnesota 16: Ron VanderKelen gives the Badgers that needed little bit extra.

Texas 21, Texas A&M 12 Thursday: Darrell Royal again proves he's coaching royally.

Louisiana State 18, Tulane 7: Jerry Stovall puts in his bid for all-star honors.

Arkansas 25, Texas Tech 8: The Razorbacks could even win this one without Billy Moore.

Oklahoma 28, Nebraska 14: Maturity was all that the Sooners needed to hit their stride.

Iowa 13, Notre Dame 7: Even Daryle Lamonica can't complete passes with a big line hanging on his lap.

Harvard 20, Yale 13: Whatever became of Frank Merriwell? The Cantabs win the Big 3.

Duke 10, North Carolina 7: In the tobacco parlance, the Devils roll their own.

Penn State 21, Pittsburgh 14: The Nittany Lions prove they are the East's best.

Washington 21, Washington State 7: Spokane is a neutral site but there's nothing neutral about these Huskies.

The others:

Thursday

Man Faked Death

St. Louis, Mo. (UPI)—Police said Wednesday a young buisiness executive, beset by "domestic, financial and social pressures," has admitted he faked his own slaying and fled to California.

Francis Z. Johnston, 27, father of 3 children and son-in-law of a tractor company president, disappeared Feb. 27 and turned up in Whittier, Calif. He left his bloodstained car on the Mississippi waterfront.

Johnston returned to St. Louis Monday night, telling police at first that he was stricken with amnesia. He said he recalled a man telephoning and demanding money, cashing a check in a drugstore, and fighting with a man on the water front.

The next thing he recalled, Johnston told police, he was on a bus at the California state line and couldn't remember his own name.

Major John Doherty, acting chief of the St. Louis bureau of detectives, said Johnston admitted this was a phony story after taking a lie detector test.

Feeling that he was verging on a nervous breakdown, Johnston said "intolerable pressures" drove him to a decision to leave his family.

Johnston told police he went to the river front, cut his wrist, sprinkled blood on his coat and auto seat and boarded a bus for California.

Johnston found work in a country club near Whittier, Doherty said. A fellow worker saw a police station poster carrying Johnston's picture and urged him to return home.

Doherty said Johnston expressed great love for his family and that no action would be taken against him.

Lawyer Asks Hope Show Be Cancelled

Hollywood (UPI)—A lawyer demanded Wednesday that the scheduled showing of a Bob Hope television skit called "Bird Brain of Alcatraz" be cancelled on grounds that it holds up to ridicule his Client, Robert Stroud, a convict who won fame for his knowledge of bird life.

Attorney Stanley A. Furman was given a private showing of the skit Tuesday by the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) and then wrote a letter to the principals demanding cancellation.

James Saphier, comedian Hope's agent, said the skit will be shown as scheduled Nov. 29.

"In the opinion of all of us, there's nothing defamatory about it," said Saphier. "It hurts no one."

Furman said in part:

"It is my opinion this sketch will adversely affect Stroud's chance of parole or a pardon since he is seeking his release from prison primarily on grounds of his rehabilitation demonstrated through superior intellectual and scientific accomplishments in the field of ornithology."

Furman stated he felt also that the sketch "constituted infringement of the copyright" of Stroud's biography, "Birdman of Alcatraz," written by another client, Thomas E. Gaddis. Burt Lancaster stars in a movie based on the biography.

Seventeen Die

Cairo (AP)— Seventeen bus passengers were killed when a passenger train and a bus collided at an intersection near the Nile delta village of Rahmaneyya.

FCC Rules TV Sets Must Have 82 Channels By 1964

Washington (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) formally ruled Wednesday that television set manufacturers must produce only all-channel receivers after April 30, 1964, for interstate sales.

The FCC action, which also applied to imports after that date, was taken to implement a law passed by Congress this year designed to expand use of the 70 ultra high frequency (UHF) channels. Most television stations now operate on the 12 very high frequency (VHF) channels.

The ruling however, does not prevent individuals from operating sets carrying only the 12 VHF channels, or prevent sale of such sets within the state where they were manufactured.

The commission set the 1964 date to allow time for set manufacturers to make the changeover and to enable UHF tuner makers to expand production. Sets generally are designed a year before they are introduced for sale.

Manufacturers will be allowed to ship sets able to recieve only VHF signals through April 30, but these will have to be marked to indicate their limited capability. After that, sets will have to be certified as in compliance with the all-channel regulation.

Fair Is Fair

Tax Group May Give Cut Priority

Washington (AP) — A member of the House Ways and Means Committee said Wednesday he expects that tax-writing group to give top priority next January to President Kennedy's tax cut proposals.

But Rep. Frank M. Karsten, D-Mo., who made the prediction, said there is no way of telling in advance of a definite presidential recommendation whether the committee would approve anything approaching a $10-billion reduction. This was the kind of cut advocated Monday by most members of a White House committee on Labor-management policy.

Prospects Good

Meanwhile, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz renewed his appeal for a tax cut early next year and said the prospects are good that Congress will provide it.

Wirtz said he doubts that the recent series of good economic indicators "will accomplish the level of economic growth that is essential for full employment." A stimulus is needed both in consumer demand and in public investment, he said, and expressed confidence that a tax cut would accomplish both.

The Labor secretary tempered his remarks by telling a news conference that his optimism for Congressional approval may be based more on his personal bias than on the actual political situation.

Decision Waits

President Kennedy, when asked about the policy committee recommendation at his news conference Tuesday, said "The amounts and where the cuts will come still are to be decided." He added that the question will be discussed within the administration in the next 10 days and a recommendation will be sent to Congress early in January.

Karsten said in an interview it appears evident the whole question is still fluid.

The policy committee's majority recommendation was for a prompt, all-at-once cut of $10 billion, benefiting both individual and corporate taxpayers. A minority of the group went along with an earlier Treasury proposal for stretching out the reduction over several years so as to avoid too heavy a revenue loss at one time.

Priority

Another question the administration presumably must discuss is whether to call for tax reduction in advance of tax overhaul, only as part of the general overhaul of the income tax structure which also is to be recommended.

In practice, Congress is likely to determine the timing. The trend of economic indicators which recently have been pointing upward, could be a factor in the decision.

Most Congressional sources, however, have been saying that, if a tax cut is needed to spur the present business cycle, it could not wait on the prolonged hearings and deliberations needed for a thorough tax revision. Comparatively simple changes in the tax structure enacted this year were almost two years in the processing.

HOW WE MAKE OUR GROUND BEEF at IGA

Of course we don't have all those gadgets on our Grinders, but you might suspect we did because of the care we give our Ground Beef.

Ground Beef, like any other commodity, can be made to sell for any price.

Excess fat is only worth about 2½ cents per pound, so naturally, the more fat that is included, the lower the price.

There are lean meat items, such as Beef and Pork Hearts that cost less than the Pure Top Grade Beef – that may be included in Ground Beef – and, of course, if they are included, Ground Beef may be offered to the consumer at lower retails.

However, whenever you see Ground Beef offered for sale at your favorite IGA Market, you can be sure it is made from Pure Top Quality Beef. Our expert IGA Beef Buyers see to that.

Serve IGA Ground Beef with confidence. Priced for Better Value.

London (AP) — The government announced the appointment of Trefor E. Evans as British ambassador to Algeria.

TV Talk On 'Der Spiegel' Postponed

Bonn (UPI) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called off without public explanation his scheduled nationwide television report Wednesday night on the West German government crisis precipitated by a crackdown on a weekly news magazine.

The 86-year-old chancellor had been scheduled to speak on the West German television network at the peak viewing time after the evening news report at 8:20 p.m. But it was announced that he had postponed his report until Friday night. No reason was offered.

However, Adenauer is scheduled to fly to West Berlin Thursday to keep a long-standing engagement to attend an executive committee meeting of his own Christian Democratic Union (CDU). It was speculated that he wants to discuss his speech with the party leaders.

Adenauer is faced with the choise of dropping Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss from the cabinet or losing the cooperation of the Free Democratic Party (FDP). The CDU does not have a majority in the lower house of parliament and depends on the FDP for control.

All 5 FDP ministers in the cabinet handed in their resignations Tuesday to Adenauer in protest against his refusal to remove Strauss. The FDP also warned that it would not join in any new coalition with CDU as long as Strauss remains a member of the government.

The FDP had accused Strauss of keeping secret the planned crackdown against the magazine Der Spiegel, which often has been critical of the defense minister and his policies. It also charged that Strauss withheld pertinent information in the case from parliament.

The publisher and 4 editors of the magazine were arrested on charges of bribery in the publication of alleged defense secrets.

Ag Secretary Says Market Will Review

. . . Poultry Threat

New York (UPI) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L Freeman said Wednesday night a Common Market official promised to review a West German tariff increase that threatens $50 million worth of America's poultry trade.

Freeman stopped briefly in New York on his way to Washington from Paris and Brussels, where he met with European Common Market ministers.

He said he was "encouraged" by a recent resolution passed by the Common Market. The resolution calls for consideration of the United States and other countries export agricultural products when it comes time for the Common Market to set commodity prices.

"The resolution sets a policy of not jeopardizing the development of international trade," the agriculture secretary said.

The Common Market hopes to establish a common price on agricultural products by 1970. Already, the market is moving rapidly toward a common price in some areas, Freeman said.

By next spring, the Market plans to set a common price on grain and wheat flour.

"The time has come for America's voice to be raised sharply and forthrightly," Freeman said.

This is what he did in a meeting with the Common Market ministers. He stressed that America's products should have access to the Market on a "fair and reasonable" basis.

He said the United States, the world's biggest exporter and importer of agricultural commodities, is "very concerned" that it not be excluded in Common Market price policies.

China May Replace Mao As Its Leader

Hongkong (UPI) —In August 1959, in the Chinese city of Lushan, an extraordinary scene took place.

The central committee of the Chinese Communist party was meeting there in a gathering of all the most powerful figures who had brought the communist revolution to a successful conclusion. They were trying to make China a strong industrialized giant.

Party chairman Mao Tse-tung presided over the meeting, as he had done every similar meeting since the 1930s.

Around him, revolutionaries sat in stony silence as they listened in amazement to a direct attack on the party leadership's policy and on Mao's infallible wisdom.

Big Blunder

The people's communes, organized the previous year throughout China on Mao's personal initiative, were a gigantic blunder, it was said.

Rations in the countryside had been so whittled down that people were subsisting in algae, cotton leaves and leaves of mustard plant, and prolongation of this misery foreshadowed serious public disorders, it was said.

It was further stated that in the period from 1933 to 1953 adults in China ate an average of one catty of rice a day, and children three-quarters of a catty (A catty is little more than 1.1 pounds.) In 1956, these rations had been reduced to three-quarters of a catty and two-thirds of a catty, and by 1958 it was down to one-half a catty and one-quarter of a catty in some places.

In effect, Mao's vaunted communes had drastically lowered the standard of living of the peasants. Other aspects of his "great leap forward" also were criticized.

The man who was making this criticism was Marshal Peng Teh-huai, former commander of Chinese forces in the Korean War, and a ranking politibureau member.

Secret Letter

Moreover, in hope of obtaining sympathetic consideration from the Soviet Union, Peng had transmitted a secret letter to Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in the course of a lengthy tour through Russia and Eastern Europe that summer. The letter stated in full Marshal Peng's grievances against Mao.

These grievances had long been nurtured in the heart of a sizeable section of the army, which had emerged from Mao's guerrilla bases of the 1930s.

Despite Peng's logical views, the other generals fearing for their heads, refused to side with him. They rose in turn to pledge their loyalty to Mao and the central committee.

Mao's viewpoint won the day, and a press attack was launched on the rightists. Peng was dismissed in disgrace in September 1959. Henceforth, all contacts with Soviet leaders were suspect.

However, the crisis into which this leadership has plunged China is not over. China has had "hard years," the communes have been modified, and the industrial plans of the great leap forward have been scrapped.

The army itself, still without nuclear weapons, has been sent off to cold Tibet and Sinkiang to fight the Indians. India, as everybody in China has been told, is being equipped with Russian jet planes.

Marshal Peng's successor, Lin Piao, a brilliant strategist although a tiny wisp of a man physically compared to Peng, has had his contacts with the Russians too.

He first went to Russia for treatment of a World War II wound. Later, the Red Army supported his forces when they entered Manchuria in 1945.

Mao's quarrel with Khrushchev undoubtedly has caused many raised eyebrows among Mao's colleagues.

Actions Dubious

Even if all China's leaders were united in opposition to the Soviet Union, which is doubtful, Mao's actions must appear dubious to many of them at this stage of the game. Mao has plunged into war with India and alienated the non-aligned nations.

Now the Russians may find it easier than they did 3 years ago to find secret allies in the Chinese military machine. The process was called subversion at the last meeting of the communist central committee.

If Mao is unseated, nobody knows for sure who the new leader of China will be. To many observers, Mao's attack on India may prove to be his biggest miscalculation. It has set in motion events which he may not have foreseen, like the North Korean attack against South Korea in June 1950.

It is a matter of speculation whether Mao will survive in power to bring to a satisfactory conclusion his adventure in the Himalayas.

—IN YEMEN—

U.S. Receives A Note From New Regime

Damascus, Syria (AP)—Yemen's revolutionary regime sent a note to the United States Wednesday amid reports that Washington is trying to calm the storm swirling around the little nation.

Vice President Abdul Rahman Baydany summoned the U.S charge d'affaires in Yemen and handed him a note called "A View of the Current Situation of the Yemeni Government," a Yemeni broadcast said. He asked the attache, Robert Stockey, to convey the views to his government.

The United States has yet to recognize the revolutionary government, despite pressure from the regime that overthrew Imam (king) Mohammad Al-Badr last September. Stockey was accredited to the monarchy.

Reports circulating through the Middle East recently have said the United States has been trying to mediate the crisis through Stockey.

Message Sent

Unconfirmed sources said Stockey delivered a message a few days ago from President Kennedy to Brig. Gen. Abdullah Sallal, president of the revolutionary government.

The message was said to ask for a formal pledge that the regime will uphold all Yemen's international treaties and obligations — a usual request before diplomatic recognition is considered.

Such a pledge would mean that the Yemen regime would abandon its claims to 3 southwestern Saudi Arabian districts near the frontier of Yemen — the Red Sea port of Qizan and the interior cities of Najran and Asir.

Sallal put forward the claims after Saudi Arabia's King Saud backed Badr's battle wo win back Yemen from the revolutionaries.

A broadcast from San'a, Yemen's capital, said Baydany announced there had been no new hostilities with Badr's forces for the past 3 days.

Addition Bids Sought

Holdrege (UPI) — The Methodist Memorial Homes here will receive bids Dec. 19 at Hastings, Neb., for a $600,000 addition, Mrs. Albert Burt, Holdrege, chairman of the board of directors announced.

Man Burned Fighting Fire In Basement

A Lincoln man suffered first and second degree burns to both his hands and one leg Wednesday night while trying to extinguish a fire in the basement of his home with a garden hose.

Lincoln General Hospital officials said Don Buethe of 2559 Kessler Blvd. was released after treatment for the burns on his hands and leg, slight burns to his face and singed eyebrows and hair.

According to firemen, Mrs. Buethe was hanging up some freshly washed clothes in a basement utility room when she accidentally knocked a two-gallon can of gas from a shelf.

The gas spilled on the floor, firemen said, and fumes spread to the hot water heater. The fumes ignited and she called her husband for help.

Buethe grabbed a nearby garden hose as the fire enveloped some cardboard boxes and wood stacked on the shelf the gas can had been on and began to fill the entire home with smoke.

Firemen arrived shortly afterward and completely extinguished the remaining flames. Damage to the utility room was estimated at less than $50, primarily limited to some floor tile and wood paneling.

Talks Going On

Lisbon, Portugal (AP)— Foreign Minister Franco Nogueira said "negotiations on American bases in the Azores are proceeding." He declined to elaborate.

New Bidder Is Low On West O Feeder

N. L. Cole Construction Co. was the apparent low bidder at $89,750 Wednesday for constructing the 16-inch water feeder main on West O.

Cole, who recently joined the ranks of Lincoln bidders, was some $10,000 under the next lowest bid for the water main extending 1½ miles from the Salt Creek bridge.

Other bidders were Dobson Bros. Construction Co., $98,975; Chambers Construction Co., $99,595, and H. R. Bookstrom Construction Co., $103,546.

Cole Low Again

N. L. Cole was also low at $35,999 on the second water project — a 12-inch feeder main in No. 70th from Ballard to Custer.

Other bidders were Bookstrom, $38,995; Dobson Bros., $39,952, and Chambers, $39,995.

Both projects, described as high priority items, are being financed from the $900,000 water revenue bonds recently issued.

Dobson Bros. was the apparent low bidder for reconstruction of water mains and sanitary sewer near 14th and Cornhusker Hwy. in connection with the widening of U.S. Hwy. 6.

The bid was $22,830 for water mains and $6,315 for sanitary sewers.

Federal Project

Cost of utility relocation will come from federal highway project city officials said.

Other bidders were Bookstrom, $23,130 and $6,515; Chambers, $22,950 and $6,915, and N. L. Cole, $26,000 and $6,665.75.

City officials said Layne Western Co. had the apaprent low bid of $12,175 for furnishing a turbine water pump and motor for the 51st St. pumping station.

Other bidders were E. R. Hanson & Sons, $14,698, and Kelley Well Co., $12,775.

Engineering recommendations on the bids will go Monday to the City Council.

10 Killed

San Miguel de Tucuman, Argentina (AP)— The two locomotives and first 4 cars of a passenger train derailed near Tahona Station in northwestern Argentina. At least 10 people were killed and 50 injured.

Some witnesses said the train was traveling at high speed over a section of track being repaired.

Chicago Exposition Opens Friday

Chicago — The nation's largest stock show will be opening here next week in the 63rd anniversary renewal of the International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show, Nov. 23 to December 1.

Thanksgiving Day will be one of the year's busiest for scores of Chicago Stock Yard workers and hundreds of stockmen and farm youths from near and far, as they rush to prepare for the opening of this huge show Friday. It will fully occupy the 13-acre International Amphitheatre.

Thousands of the finest purebred animals from farm and ranch — horses, cattle, sheep, and swine — will be washed and scrubbed, combed and brushed, oiled and curled, to look their fashionable best for the contests that will crown the year's champions among the 37 different breeds that will be exhibited here.

Farm youths from 12 to 20 years old, members of the 4-H and FFA Clubs, will be in the spotlight on the opening day. They will compete in exhibiting steers, lambs, and hogs they have raised as Club projects. They will be here from 15 states, the management reports.

Top winners in the junior contests will be allowed to compete with adult owners in the open steer show that follows Saturday, climaxed by the naming of the grand champion steer over all breeds on Monday.

NOW...a Sure Cure for WALL-CRACKS!

For generations, folks have been trying to repair wall-cracks by filling them, but always give up in despair. And no wonder. Walls constantly expand and contract with temperature and humidity changes. Brittle crack-fillers compress or pull apart, and open-up or fall out. Until Tuff-Kote, the only way to make a permanent repair was replacing the entire wall.

CRACKS DISAPPEAR FOREVER

Now, however, this problem is solved once and for all by a simple application of Tuff-Kote that spans cracks with a thin, pliable, high-strength patch, instead of filling them. This convenient repair is invisible when painted, stronger that the wall itself, and does the job forever. No chipping, no wire mesh, no fuss or muss. There has never been anything like it. Outstanding advantages for many other home uses, too; indoors and out. Everyone is an expert with Tuff-Kote!

In-Laws Collide In Road Crash; Both Are Hurt

Sidney (UPI) — A mother collided Wednesday with the father of the man her daughter married, but there was nothing personal about the meeting except the injuries.

Mrs. Vera J. Sparks, 52, Sidney, swerved her car back into the main stream of traffic on U.S. 30, two miles west of here when she saw she couldn't complete a turn.

The car collided broadside with another driven by Simon Ribera, 57, father-in-law of Mrs. Sparks' daughter. And, the accident occurred in front of where the girl was working.

Ribera and Mrs. Sparks were hospitalized for cuts and bruises. Damage was total to the father-in-law's car and about $1,000 to the mother's, the State Safety Patrol said.

Mexico Arrests Over 100 ... IN BOMBINGS

Mexico City (AP)—The Mexican government said Wednesday it has arrested more than 100 people and controlled scattered outbreaks of violence. Authorities said the acts appeared to be the work of anti-communists, but that they were isolated and did not add up to an anti-government plot.

Federal agents at Matamoros, across the border from Brownsville, Tex., questioned 10 men accused of plotting to blow up bridges, highways and public buildings at Matamoros, Nuevo Laredo, and Ciudad Victoria.

Seize Explosives

Officials seized 476 sticks of dynamite and 300 plastic bombs.

Gen. Juan Trujillo, military commander at Matomoros, said the plotters planned to blow up the two international bridges between Matamoros and Brownsville, and public buildings and highways there and at Nuevo Laredo and Cuidad Victoria. Nuevo Laredo is across the border from Laredo, Tex. Cuidad Victoria is the state capital.

Minor leaders of the principal opposition party, the Party of National Action (PAN), were among those arrested. But both government and party said PAN itself was not involved in the alleged plot.

A government official expressed concern that tourism, a prime source of U.S. dollars, might be damaged unless potential visitors were reassured the incidents were not part of an anti-government movement.

Armed Attack

In Oaxaca state, about 150 miles southeast of Mexico City, officers said 91 people—including some PAN members — were arrested in connection with an armed attack by 300 men on a small army outpose at Huajuapan de Leon last weekend. Two soldiers and a civilian died in the attack.

Government sources said the uprising stemmed from unrest among the campesinos, or peasants. They said strongly anti-communist churchmen also might be involved.

In Cuidad Hidalgo, officials termed purely local an attack on city hall by 25 or 30 men that resulted in the mayor's death.

Authorities continued investigation of bombings at the Soviet and Cuban embassies in Mexico City, but no arrests had been made. Damage was slight at the Soviet embassy. The bombs found at the Cuban embassy were duds.

An explosion in a refinery laboratory that killed 5 people at Cuidad Pemex in Tabasco state was blamed on employe carelessness.

Old Soldier Dies

Paris (AP)— French Marine Maj. Philippe Kieffer, whose D-Day fighting was portrayed in the book "The Longest Day," died at his home near Paris. He was 64.

Kieffer led the first force of French marines landing at Ouistreham, capturing the casino and other heavily defended objectives.

Mystery Craft Up In Space

London (Thursday) (AP)—The international aviation magazine Flight International reported today at least 3 mystery space craft have been launched recently without any anouncement by the country that put them up.

The magazine said the craft are probably Russian satellites or space probes that have been tracked but not announced by the United States.

American sources, Flight International said, speculate that one of the space craft might have been an unsuccessful Venus probe, launched aparently Sept. 10 or 12. Another could be a Mars probe that got no further than parking orbit around the Earth.

Probe Launched

Point Arguello, Calif. (AP)—A space probe employing a Blue Scout booster combination was launched by the Air Force at the Navy's Pacific missile range, officials said.

The Blue Scout is a solid fuel rocket of 3 or 4 stages used to lift small payloads for high altitude research.

Russians Blast Chinese In Announcing Cease-Fire

Moscow (UPI) — The Soviet Union Wednesday cautiously publicized the announcement of Communist China's cease-fire in the border war against India but coupled it with scathing new attacks on Peking policy.

Moscow Radio broadcast the Chinese proposals several times during the Wednesday's news programs without comment.

Publication of the Chinese proposals was interpreted here as a sign of Soviet hope they might lead to an end in the fighting between its communist partner and its neutral friend.

But the Soviets also were believed unwilling to alienate public opinion in India by any move that could be considered an ill-timed endorsement of the Peking offer.

As indication there has been no letup in the Soviet-Chinese quarrel, the Moscow press published two strong attacks on Peking policy made at the current Hungarian Communist party congress in Budapest.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia published a speech by Soviet Presidium Member Otto Kuusinen in which he attacked China's Albanian ally — and by implication Peking — as "loudmouthed" critics of Russian policy in Cuba while "they are unable to help Cuba by any practical means whatsoever."

The Communist party newspaper Pravda printed the text of Hungarian party leader Janos Kadar's speech, which also attacked Peking's stand.

"We deeply condemn the apostate Hoxha (Albanian party leader Enver Hoxha) and those who think like him and also the dogmatic and sectarian speeches which were met in other parties of the international communist movement," Kadar was quoted as saying.

In London, Western observers believed China's cease-fire offer might have been prompted by Soviet pressure, with Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev lining up a firm front of his European satellites.

Admittedly mystified, observers listed 3 other possible motives for the Chinese offer:

—Fear that large-scale Western, and particularly American, arms supplies to India could prove a severe test for China's military resources.

—Peking's belief that its victories on the border already had inflicted enough damage on India's prestige and boosted China's claim to Asian supremacy.

—The disquieting reaction from the uncommitted nations, to whom China appealed last week for backing in the conflict.

London observers also believe Peking may have wanted to prevent any Soviet-American reapproachment, which might leave China in political isolation and weaken its chances to gain world power status.

The European press reacted with relief tempered by doubt to the cease-fire proposal. Many commentators, including one for the Manchester Guardian, saw the move as an attempt to impose a one-sided settlement on India.

'Church, State Wall Is Not To Bar Ideas'

Washington (UPI) — The United States "wall of separation" between church and state was never intended to inhibit a "commerce of ideas" between government and religion, a White House aide said Wednesday.

"Communication" between religious and political communities is an esential element to the well-being of the nation, Brooks Hays, the White House spokesman, said.

Addressing the final session of an institute on religious freedom sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Hays said: "The political community, to be well ordered, must have the harmony and righteousness that religion alone can supply. The image of a wall of separation is useful for lawyers and judges, but walls can be very harmful when, as in Berlin, communication is blocked."

Stocks Rally Near Close

New York (AP) — The stock market, rallying strongly near the close, advanced sharply again Wednesday in trading that was surprisingly heavy for a preholiday session.

Prices opened with a small advance, sank back and then finished at their best levels.

Volume totaled 5.1 million shares, well above Tuesday's 4.29 million. Trading usually eases the day before a holiday. The market will close for Thanksgiving Day.

There was no evidence Wednesday that the market needs a rest after a spectacular gain in the last 3½ weeks, as some brokers have suggested. Instead, it seemed to be gaining strength from favorable businses news, rosier predictions about the economic outlook and improvement in the international situation.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.8 to 236.1 with industrials up 2.6, rails up 1.5 and utilities .5.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials advanced 4.31 to 637.25.

The climb carried these averages to new highs for the recovery from the lowest level reached last June.

Of 1,293 issues traded, 768 advanced and 291 declined. New highs for the year numbered 27. There were no new lows.

Twelve of the 15 most active stocks advanced and three dropped.

The New York Stock Exchange announced after the close Tuesday that the short interest position on Nov. 15 reached its highest level since reports began in 1931. Brokers felt this might have a mild bullish effect on prices as borrowed shares will have to be repaid with purchased stock.

Prices were nigher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume rose to 12.4 million shares from 1.13 million Tuesday.

Corporate bonds advanced and government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Blockade Ends, But Guard Is Kept Up

. . . No Sign Of Dismantling In Florida

By JIM BECKER

Key West, Fla. (AP)—The U.S. rushed troops and military equipment to the South Florida area in recent weeks to launch successfully an invasion of Cuba if it had been ordered.

The buildup is still here. A tour of the area from Miami to Key West, 90 miles from Havana, showed no signs Wednesday that it is being dismantled, or that the American guard has been dropped.

Navy and Air Force armed jets, the newest and best in the national arsenal including F104s, screamed through the skies over the Florida Straits.

Rockets on Racks

At anti-aircraft installations dotted along the keys—a string of islands stretching from the Florida mainland some 100 miles in the general direction of Cuba—white-painted rockets were stacked in their launcher racks, ready for use. Radar screens whirled, and soldiers in fatigue work uniforms were nearby.

Guards were on duty outside the installations. Barbed wire barricades circled them. At an anti-aircraft installation on Sugar Loaf Key the barbed wire stretched into the ocean.

A Navy destroyer, however, was seen heading at a brisk clip for the Key West Navy station, apparently after blockade duty.

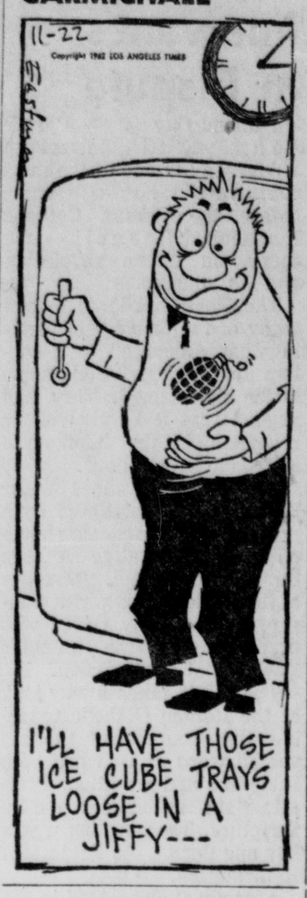
Trident Speediest London To Rome

London (UPI)—The De Havilland Aircraft Co. said one of its new airlines, the Trident, has unofficially broken the world's speed record from London to Rome.

The company said the plane flew the 930 miles in one hour and 37 minutes and averaged 573 miles an hour. The plane was en route to Africa for test trials in a tropical climate.

The official record stands at 566 miles per hour.



Russell Urges

Tokyo (AP) — British philosopher Bertrand Russell in letters to premier Chou En-lai urged Red China to take the initiative and cease firing in India, Radio Peking said.
